GIVE PROGRAM FOR SEMINARY WEEK EVENTS

The twenty-third annual Seminary Week of the Gettysburg Lutheran seminary will bring hundreds of alumni and friends to the campus on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

The committee in charge, composed of Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, Dr. Harry F. Baughman and Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, has secured lecturers in line with the tradition of fine lectures established over the years. The Rev. Dr. Sherman Skinner, pastor of the East Liberty (Pittsburgh) Presbyterian church, will give the Zimmerman lectures on Effective Preaching. Dr. Skinner's general subject will be "No Uncertain Sound," and his five lectures, "The Voice of God," Wednesday, 11 a. m.; "Ears That Hear," Wednesday, 7 p. m.; "The Cry of the Prophet," Thursday, 9 a. m.; "The Rhythm of the Lord's Song," Thursday, 11 a. m.; and "The Word of Life," Friday, 9 a. m.

German Bishop To Speak

The Rev. Dr. Conrad Bergendoff, will deliver the Swope lecture on liturgics on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock on the theme "Our Liturgical Heritage from the Swedish Church." He will speak again at 2 p. m. Wednesday on "The Sphere of Revelation."

The Right Rev. Dr. Hanns Lilje, bishop of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Hannover, Germany, will lecture three times, Thursday at 10 a. m. on "The Dilemma of Man," Friday at 10 a. m. on "The Church Speaking Today" and Friday at 2 p. m. on "The New Humanism."

The Rev. Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean of Yale Divinity school, will deliver the dedicatory address for the dedication of the new library building at 4 p. m. Thursday afternoon.

Climax On Thursday

The Rev. Dr. James A. Pike, will present two lectures. The first on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock will treat, "The Relationship of Roman Catholicism and the Evangelical Faith to the Development of Christian Personality," the second on Friday at 11 a. m. on "The Relationship of Roman Catholicism and the Evangelical Faith to the Potentials for Democracy."

The Rev. Dr. John Aberly, president emeritus of the seminary, will lecture at 9 a. m. Wednesday on "Zealous of Good Works."

Thursday will be the high point of the seminary week. The new $230,000 library of the seminary will be dedicated at 4 p. m. In addition to the dedicatory service the building will be open for public inspection. The Grand Chapter of the Friends of Gettysburg seminary will also meet on Thursday, holding their annual meeting in the Church of the Abiding Presence at 3 p. m.

The Seminary extends a cordial invitation to all its friends to come and share in this 23rd Annual Seminary Week. Each day's activities will open with the matins at 8:45 a. m. The time will be Daylight Savings Time.

19 LOCAL SCOUTS MAKE D.C. TRIP

Nineteen members of Troop 78, the local Catholic Boy Scout troop, accompanied by members of the troop committee, took part Sunday in a tour of Washington led by Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the local National Military park and a member of the troop committee.

The scouts participating included Dale Kane, Joseph Bushey, William Barr, Thomas Hemler, Richard Hoffman, Charles Hemler, James Coleman, Jack Codori, Dennis Unks, Fred Walters, Bernard Miller, Kenneth Cole, John Staub, Cyril Althoff, Jack Knox, Richard Roy and Martin Redding.

Raymond Unks, John Coleman and Kay Coleman were guests of the scouts on the trip. The youngsters were transported in cars operated by Doctor Coleman, John Codori, Raymond Unks, Richard Cole and Dr. Joseph H. Riley.

After visiting the Washington monument, the scouts visited the grave of the unknown soldier at Arlington, viewed the capitol and White House and then visited the Smithsonian and National museums and the zoo.

Historians Will Make Tour Tuesday

Instead of the regular meeting in the society rooms in the court house, members of the Adams County Historical society will go on a tour Tuesday evening, leaving the Gettysburg high school building at 6 o'clock. The tour will cover the Two Taverns and Barlow sections.

The tour is being conducted by a committee including Mrs. E. S. Lewars, Miss Margaret McMillan, Miss Anna Reck and J. Melchior Sheads. Transportation will be provided from the high school.

COOKING SCHOOL IN LITTLESTOWN OPENS TONIGHT

Everything was in readiness today for the opening tonight of The Gettysburg Times cooking school at Littlestown. Sessions will be held two nights, tonight and Tuesday, in the auditorium of St. Aloysius school. Doors will open tonight at 6:30 o'clock, and the school will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Nancy Rowe, nationally-known home economics specialist who has just concluded the most successful cooking school ever held in Gettysburg, will also be the lecturer and give demonstrations on the economical preparation of food and meals at the Littlestown school.

Because of the limited seating capacity and the large crowds expected at St. Aloysius auditorium, no one under 16 years of age, either accompanied or unaccompanied, will be admitted.

Give Baskets of Food

Ten baskets of groceries will be given away tonight and ten more on Tuesday night at the Littlestown cooking school. Twenty-four merchants and manufacturers are co-operating with The Times to help make this school a success. It is being presented as a public service to the community.

In addition to the baskets to be presented on the two nights, 32 special gifts will be awarded on Tuesday night. These will include the following items:

An electric kitchen wall clock donated by Stanley B. Stover; a pair of lady's shoes, Windsor Shoe company; two baskets of fruit, Hollinger's food market; four two-quart packages of Handypak ice cream, from Marvin's cut rate store; a (Continued on Page Two)

NEW OXFORD HIGH BAND IS WINNER

The New Oxford high school band, directed by Paul A. Harner, was one of two bands to be given first honors in the Class C annual State Forensic and Music contests held in Oil City, Pa., Saturday morning.

Boiling Springs high school's band also received a superior rating. Other bands in Class C competition were Wesleyville, McClure, Lehman Township, Pine Grove Township and Southwest Greensburg.

Saturday's triumph marked the sixth time the New Oxford band has attained first place. The county band was comprised of 55 members.

This year's competition was based on a rating scale in which the New Oxford outfit attained a superior rating for performance, the major part of the score, and excellent rating in sight reading.

Members of the band made the trip in private cars via the Lakes-to-the-Sea highway. Students and adults were entertained overnight Friday in private homes.

IS SWEETHEART OF SIGMA CHI

Miss Suzanne Wentz, Hanover, formerly of Gettysburg, a senior at Gettysburg college, was chosen "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" Friday night at the spring dance of the fraternity at the Hotel Gettysburg. The "sweetheart" pin was presented by her escort, Paul MacFarland, and Ted Lenker, chairman of the social committee of the chapter, presented the cup and an arm bouquet of white roses, the fraternity flower.

Miss Wentz was also serenaded by the orchestra with the "Sweetheart" song. She will compete at Seattle, Wash., on August 27 for the national honor, the winner of which will become the "cover" girl on the Sigma Chi national magazine, and will be eligible for a movie screen test.

Miss Wentz was the outstanding junior coed last year and is in "Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities." She is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Littlestown REV. FR. LAVELLE IS INSTALLED AT LITTLESTOWN

The Rev. George A. Lavelle, newly appointed pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic church, was officially installed as pastor at a special service in the church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The service began with a procession in which James Myers serving as crossbearer and Frederick Busbey and Lawrence Sentz as altar boys, together with the pastor and the visiting clergy approached the altar.

Following the singing of an antiphon and the hymn "Veni Creator" by the choir, the Rev. Fr. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor of St. Mary's of the Immaculate Conception church, New Oxford, read a letter from the Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of Harrisburg, delegating him to conduct the ceremony. Father Hartnett spoke briefly, reminding the congregation that a priest is "another Christ" and a pastor is the spiritual advisor and counselor of his parishioners. He called down the blessing of God upon the new pastor and upon the members of the parish. The installation ceremony then followed.

After the ceremony, the new priest responded with brief remarks. He said that "the purpose of the coming of our Saviour some nineteen hundred years ago was to aid in the salvation of souls; the Saviour told His apostles and disciples to 'Go into the whole world and preach the gospel to every creature.' This was the duty not only of the apostles but also of the priests today, who are God's ambassadors, and work for the same purpose." Father Lavelle asked for the cooperation and prayers of the parishioners and concluded his remarks by stating that he hoped he might fulfill the words of the antiphon sung at the beginning of the ceremony, "I am the good pastor; I know mine and mine know me; therefore, a good pastor (Continued on page 6)

Elmer C. Schildt, near Harney, the retiring president of the district, was in charge of the rally. The rally opened with a song service with the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, serving as chorister and Mrs. LeRoy Berwager, organist of Christ church, D. organist. The Rev. Kenneth D. (Continued on page 6)

Army Officers Visit Gettysburg

A group of 21 officers headed by Col. John W. Watson, commanding officer of the Second Armored Group of the Second Corps area, Baltimore, made a thorough study of the Gettysburg battlefield over the weekend.

The group toured the "field Saturday morning and afternoon under guidance of Dr. Frederick Tilberg, historian of the local National park and then spent the remainder of Saturday afternoon and part of Sunday morning in study of the relief map of the battlefield in the local park office.

Sunday afternoon the officers revisited the cyclorama and the National museum. At the latter place they observed the story of the battlefield as shown by lights on a relief map.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Herring, 321 York street, announce the birth of a son, Dennis Eugene, at the Warner hospital Saturday afternoon.

A son was born this morning at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stoner, East Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sanders, Westminster R. 6, announce the birth of a daughter Sunday morning at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hartman, 5 Liberty street, announce the birth of a son, William Robert, at the York hospital on Friday.

APRIL TRAVEL TOPS '47 LEVEL

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, Gettysburg National Park superintendent, said today park records show an estimated 47,000 visitors toured the Gettysburg battlefield in April. This figure compares with an estimated 36,000 in April of last year.

The April count showed 1,554 autos and 98 buses guided over the field in the 30-day period.

Although they reported "heavy" traffic over the past week-end no travel figures were available.

Littlestown PROF. KNOUSE IS S.S. CONVENTION GUEST SPEAKER

Prof. Roy D. Knouse, an active layman in St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, and a former principal of the Littlestown high school, was the speaker at the annual spring rally of the Third District, Adams County Council of Christian Education, held in Christ Reformed church, near town, on Sunday evening. His subject was, "Seeking Life."

About 350 were present, representing most of the schools in the district. Elmer C. Schildt, near Harney, the retiring president of the district, was in charge of the rally. The rally opened with a song service with the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, serving as chorister and Mrs. LeRoy Berwager, organist of Christ church, D. organist. County Women Want Times Cooking School As Annual Event; Ask For Mrs. Rowe Gettysburg and Adams county women want another Times cooking school next year, in fact they want one every year, and they want Mrs. Nancy Rowe, who lectured at the cooking school here last week, back again.

Women indicated their approval of the cooking school and their desire for other cooking schools on slips of paper which they deposited in a large box at the closing session of the school in the Hotel Gettysburg annex Friday night.

"Sure, we want the cooking school next year and we want Nancy Rowe back," was a typical comment.

"Please have your cooking school every year," another woman requested. "I love the new ideas and new interest in food and its preparation it gives me."

"I want a school, I have enjoyed every minute of the school and hope we have one every year," another woman wrote on her slip.

Three women who gave their approval to the cooking school idea thought March would be a better month, however. They joined together to write: "Yes, we three ladies want cooking school next year, but have it in March; too hot in here now."

Give Many Reasons
Another liked the idea of a cooking school for apparently another reason. "Heavens yes — it's such a nice change — and it's three nights out, too," she wrote.

Other responses ranged from the simple statement "Yes" to other statements such as these: "Please have another cooking school." "Yes, I am in favor of a cooking school in 1949." "I think the cooking school is fine, let's have it again." "We want another cooking school, and we want Mrs. Rowe." "Cooking school was grand and will be greatly appreciated." "We love good eats, so let's have the school."

"Keep It Going"
"Yes, have school next year, and have Mrs. Rowe, please." "Yes, we would love to have a cooking school and we surely do want Mrs. Rowe back with us again."

"We enjoyed the school and hope to have it again next year. We also enjoyed Mrs. Rowe's nice personality."

Forty baskets of food, 16 valuable special awards and 20 articles of food prepared by Mrs. Rowe during her lectures and demonstrations on the three nights of the school were given away. One woman wrote this note: "Another one, and lots of prizes."

"I have enjoyed the cooking school very much and would like to see it come back next year," another woman wrote, and others said "I think the cooking school is grand, and hope to attend next year," and "I think the cooking school is fine; keep it going."

H. J. STERNER, 77, DIES SUDDENLY IN NEW OXFORD

Harry J. (J. Henry) Sterner, 77, Poplar street, New Oxford, died suddenly Saturday night at 10:45 o'clock. County Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist said death was due to a heart attack.

An iron molder by trade for the past half century, he worked Thursday, the last day of the week's work and seemed in good health. Saturday night he joined in a family custom of reciting the rosary and then, about 10 o'clock, said he was going up street to buy some cigarettes. He returned home about 10:30, placed his car in the garage and came into the house, where he became ill and died shortly after Dr. Wilbur H. Miller, who was called, arrived.

A native of Bonneville, a son of the late Charles and Mary Noel Sterner, he resided for a number of years in Emmitsburg, where he conducted a bakery, before moving to New Oxford.

Services Wednesday

He was a member of the Sons of Veterans of the Civil War, Holy Name Society and the New Oxford Social club.

His first wife, the former Emma Staub, died 32 years ago. Surviving are a second wife, the former Alma M. Groft Eckert; four children, Sister Mary Isabelle, St. Mary's Convent, Lykens; Mrs. Arthur E. Roth, 220 South Stratton street; Mrs. Bernard Noel, New Oxford; Mrs. Paul Royer, Red Lion; a step daughter, Mrs. Thomas E. Smith, New Oxford; 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the late home followed by requiem mass at 9 o'clock at Immaculate Conception Catholic church, New Oxford, with the Rev. Robert Harnett officiating. Interment in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the late home from 4 o'clock this afternoon until time of the funeral. Prayers will be held at the church Tuesday evening.

COUPLE IS WED HERE SATURDAY

Miss Grace A. Angell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Angell, Taneytown, became the bride of Charles L. Kerrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kerrigan, Chambersburg street, Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in the rectory of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Louis F. Forgan, assistant pastor of the church.

Mrs. John E. Kerrigan, sister-in-law of the groom, served as maid of honor and John E. Kerrigan, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride wore a powder blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white roses. The maid of honor was attired in a black and white suit with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bridegroom. The bridegroom is a veteran of three years' service with the U. S. Army, two years of which were served in the South Pacific as a member of the 31st Infantry Division. He is associated with his brother, J. E. Kerrigan, in the painting business. For the present the couple will reside at the home of the bridegroom.

Awaits Sentence For County Theft

Transcripts in the larceny cases against Charles Edward Stull and Luther Lee Vulgamott, both of Hagerstown, have been filed with the county clerk of courts by Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore.

The papers show that Stull has been removed by the Adams county sheriff from the Franklin county jail to the Dauphin county jail to await sentence on charges of taking a radio, cigarettes, cigars and other articles worth $75 from a Liberty township service station and taking milk cans valued at $30 from a Franklin township farmer. Vulgamott, who also faces the same charges remains in the Franklin county jail to complete a sentence on charges brought against him in that county. Both pleaded nolle contendere to the Adams county informations.

DINNER POSTPONED

The dinner meeting of South Mountain Fair association leaders, which was to have been held this evening, has been postponed until Monday, May 10, it was announced today. Reservations should be made through Harvey B. Raffensperger, Arendtsville.

TEETER TO SPEAK

The Fairfield Lions club will meet Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Shelter House here. District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter will be the speaker.

W. P. Townsend To Speak At Dinner

Walter P. Townsend, executive secretary of the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania, will be the guest speaker at the annual dinner-meeting of the Child Welfare committee Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the YWCA.

Mr. Townsend has been secretary for the last five years and prior to that was executive secretary of the Connecticut Children's Aid society. He is a member of the board of directors of the Child Welfare League of America.

In addition to committee members, foster parents are invited to the dinner-meeting as well as other interested persons. Those planning to attend are requested to contact the Child Welfare office by 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

3 INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in two week-end accidents investigated by state police from the Gettysburg substation. Cars involved were damaged to the extent of about $500.

Three-year-old Linda Marie Sentz, suffered contusions when she ran against the side of a car operated by Joseph Courtney, Broad Alban, N. Y., just north of the intersection at the Peach Orchard on the Emmitsburg road Sunday afternoon about 12:45 o'clock.

Courtney told police he was driving north when he saw the little girl start across the highway in front of her home. He swerved his machine but she ran against the side of the car. Dr. David Stoner treated the injured girl.

County Men Injured

Cars operated by George A. Forry, 21, New Oxford R. 2, and A. H. Creveling, 54, Harrisburg, collided on the Lincoln highway, three miles west of New Oxford, Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock.

Investigation showed that both cars had been traveling east when Creveling attempted a left turn onto a side road near the Wenchoff service station. Forry's machine struck the rear of the Harrisburg car.

J. Veritas Forry, 59, father of the driver, was thrown out of the Forry car. He was treated at the Warner hospital for minor injuries. His son also suffered minor cuts but did not require medical attention. Police are continuing the investigation of the mishap which caused $500 damage to the two cars.

Two drivers were charged over the week-end with motor code violations and each paid a $10 fine and the costs. Maurice Polowski, Millwaukee, was arrested for speeding on the Lincoln highway and was taken before Justice of the Peace Claude Straley, New Oxford. Dorothy Fritz, New Windsor, R. D. Md., was charged with driving without a license and paid her fine to Justice Gerald Orndorff, Oxford township.

State Asks Bids On W. Middle St. Paving

The state highway department today called for bids on May 7 for paving the first block of West Middle street, from Baltimore street to South Washington street, a distance of .12 of a mile.

Bids were also asked for the repaving of the Biglerville road through the borough of Biglerville and part of Butler township, a distance of .76 of a mile, and for a road and two concrete bridges near Table Rock 2.84 miles.

Dr. T. F. Herman, 76, Dies At Lancaster

Word has been received here of the death Friday night of Dr. Theodore F. Herman, 76, president emeritus of the Evangelical and Reformed Theological seminary at Lancaster. Death occurred at Lancaster where Dr. Herman had been ill for some time.

Dr. Herman, who also was a former professor of systematic theology at the seminary, was well known in Gettysburg and had spoken here on a number of occasions. He was a native of Germany. He joined the seminary faculty at Lancaster in 1910 and became its president in 1939, retiring last summer. He had previously served pastorates at Cleveland, Lafayette, Ind., and Allentown.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Lancaster.

DAMAGE BY STORM

United Telephone, Metropolitan Edison and Rural Electric maintenance crews had early morning trouble calls today after most of the county was swept by a heavy electrical storm early this morning. None of the companies said damage was extensive although both phone and electric service were cut off temporarily by lightning at a number of points.

$100 REWARD IS OFFERED IN BABY MYSTERY

A reward of $100 was offered by a Gettysburg merchant today for any information turned over to the police which will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the decapitation of a new-born infant whose head was found April 25 at the sewage disposal plant here. Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster announced today. Investigation of the baby murder still held top priority with borough police and other authorities, with every effort being directed toward a solution of the gruesome crime. Chief Harpster said a thorough investigation was being made of all leads unearthed thus far, including information given the police following publication last week in The Gettysburg Times of appeals for clues.

Chief Harpster and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter conferred Saturday on the progress of the case, and it was decided to ask the Pennsylvania State police for assistance. Major Charles C. Keller, Harrisburg, was contacted, and assigned Detective R. O. Parsons to come to Gettysburg.

To Confer Again

Parsons and Harpster went over the work which has already been done in the case, and conferred with the district attorney.

"Chief Harpster has covered every angle that probably could be covered up to this time," Parsons said.

The state police detective will return to Gettysburg the latter part of this week for another conference with local authorities, Harpster and the district attorney said.

The latter today added his appeal to that made by the chief of police.

Contact Nearby Towns

"I think everything is generally being done that could be done to reach a solution of this mystery," Teeter said today, "but I would like to add my appeal to that of Chief Harpster's. I would like to call on all citizens of Gettysburg and Adams county who are interested in law and order to come forth with any information they may have which will assist in any way in the solution of this crime."

In addition to the intensive local investigation, Chief Harpster said he had contacted police and constables at York Springs, Mt. Holly Springs, Carlisle and Mechanicsburg, and will contact others.

"Everything is being done that can be done," he said. "We are exploring every lead, no matter how small."

Heavy Blows Fatal

X-rays of the baby's head, taken at the Warner hospital under the direction of Dr. C. H. Johnson, pathologist, revealed that the head was severed from the body with one blow of a heavy instrument, such as a meat cleaver, and that the blow completely severed the fourth cervical vertebra.

The cut across the face, x-rays showed, through the right eye and above the left eye, penetrated about a third through the head, indicating that this blow was also struck with considerable force with a heavy instrument. These reports precluded the possibility that the decapitation was done with a knife.

BIGLERVILLE MAIL ON DST

As of today, the Biglerville post office and its rural routes will be operated on daylight time, Earl E. Carey, postmaster, has announced.

The change was made due to the star-route from Carlisle to Gettysburg operating on Daylight Saving time and after permission was received from the post office inspector.

The new schedule of hours now in effect at Biglerville follows: Monday through Friday—lobby, 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.; stamp and postal note window, 7 to 6 p. m.; money order window, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.; Saturday—Lobby, 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.; stamp and postal order window, 7 a. m. to 12:15 p. m.; money order window, 8 a. m. to 12:15 p. m.

The first mail now arrives in Biglerville at 7:40 a. m., DST, but the superintendent of railway mail service is hopeful this mail can be advanced one hour in the near future. In the event the star route from Heidelsburg to Gardners is advanced then the lobby and window service will advance one-half hour in the morning.

MEETING ON SCHOOLS

There will be a meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m., daylight saving time, in the Littlestown high school library, of representatives from the school districts in Adams county, that were present at the previous meeting on Tuesday, April 13, who are interested in actually establishing a joint school district with Littlestown as the nucleus.

Public Card Party, 500 and Pinechick, Tuesday, May 4th, 8 o'clock at V.F.W. Home, Carlisle Street, Benefit Ladies Auxiliary.

LIBRARY BOARD NAMES TWO ON CHEST COUNCIL

Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars, president of the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library, and J. Willis Beidler, Biglerville, treasurer, were elected to represent the library on the Community Chest council at a meeting of the board Friday night in the library rooms on Carlisle street. Mrs. Lewars presided.

The treasurer's report showed a balance in the Gettysburg National bank on June 30 of $2,898.79, and $515.70 in the savings account from life memberships. Receipts for June were shown as $123.90, and for the year to date, $6,607.07. The expenditures for June were $890.48 and for the year $4,385.88.

The circulation of books from the main library on Carlisle street, the bookmobile and the branch libraries during June was the largest month to date since the library was opened, the secretary's report showed.

New Books Added

Two hundred and eight new books were purchased during June, 122 donated and 204 old and worn out books withdrawn from circulation.

The library announced the following donors: Mrs. W. A. Corbett, Gettysburg, books; Miss Lavinia Dock, Fayetteville R. D., magazines; Mrs. Gilbert Elker, Gettysburg, books; Mrs. Allan Felix, Dean and Marilyn Felix, Gettysburg, books; Fred Green, Gettysburg, books and magazines; Greenstone school, books; the Rev. A. W. Geigley, Fairfield, magazines; Mr. and Mrs. Nevin H. Grieb, Gettysburg, magazines; John Haas, Gettysburg, books; John Knickerbocker, Gettysburg, books; Mrs. E. S. Lewars, Gettysburg, books and magazines; Donald McPherson, Gettysburg, magazines; Alfred Ness, Gettysburg, pamphlets, and Marcus Steiner, Gettysburg, books.

Will Close Tuesday

The board voted to pay $100 to Miss Kathryn Oller, former librarian, for services performed. A report was also given by O. H. Benson, chairman of the housing committee, in which he said several possible sites for the library had been visited but no action taken.

The board voted to purchase an Elliott addressette, for facilitating the addressing of letters and cards. The library will be closed Monday in observance of Independence day, and will remain closed all day Tuesday, while the floors are being refinished.

Next meeting of the library board will be held September 3.

PAGEANT ENDS GIRL SCOUTS' CAMP FRIDAY

More than 400 parents, friends and children attended the closing program of the Girl Scout day camp at the South Mountain fair grounds Friday afternoon, which was featured by the presentation of a pageant, "The Captive," directed by Mrs. Madeline Killalea, assisted by Miss Helen Taylor.

The pageant was dramatized by Mara Evans (Mrs. Myron M. Stearns) Fairfield road, from a book by Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars. The music of the pageant was under the direction of Miss Julia Yost, Biglerville; dances, Mrs. Robert Kenworthy, Gettysburg, and costumes, Mrs. Ivan Taylor, York Springs. Miss Janet Musselman, Orrtanna, announced the program.

Leaders Introduced

Mrs. C. Harold Johnson, Gettysburg, president of the Adams County Girl Scout council, introduced Mrs. Mervin Bream, Gettysburg day camp coordinator, and Miss Marion Tupper, new Girl Scout executive. Miss Nancy Davis, Peach Glen, introduced the Unit No. 1 Rhythm band, directed by Mrs. Howard Knouse, Knoxlyn.

Miss Musselman presented Mrs. Lewars, Mrs. Killalea and Mrs. Stearns, and they received corsages. A pot of flowers was presented to Mrs. Johnson. The pageant closed with the singing of "America the Beautiful," and a retreat ceremony conducted by the Girl Scouts.

More than 200 Girl Scouts attended the camp, which opened Monday. It was the first of three camps to be held in the county.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Girl Not Mad At Her Ching

Pittsburgh, July 3 (AP) — A 12-year-old girl chewed viciously by her pet dog says, "I'm not mad at Ching. Why he's my best friend."

The 70-pound Ching sank his teeth into Jean Oinhausen's leg, then into the back of her neck and finally her head. The girl said she battled for her life in a darkened living room.

A noise in the street finally distracted the animal. After he calmed down, the girl put him out of the house and waited for her grandmother to come home and call a doctor.

Eleven stitches were needed, seven of them in Joan's head.

But with it all she was forgiving.

OWLS CHOOSE BRUA CHAPEL AS NEST SITE

The owl, being a wise old bird, has made a synthesis of religion, education and family life.

Mr. Whoo, being no common type of owl, has chosen the tower of Brua Chapel on the college campus as his nesting place and he and Mrs. Whoo are busy rearing their children who, naturally, attend all chapel services, being right in the building as it were, and are becoming exceptionally wise owls because they are also in the midst of all activities at the educational institution.

The Rev. C. A. Waltman, Port Royal, Pa., a member of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science, who first reported the owls to The Gettysburg Times, says that judging by size, speed of flight, manner of landing and entering the tower and very light color of breasts, the owls are not the usual type that reside in this vicinity.

Watches From Ground

In a letter to The Times the Rev. Mr. Waltman wrote: "Being in Gettysburg over the Sabbath I took a walk at late dusk through the cool campus grounds of the college. Before leaving the campus, at the southeast, while admiring the architecture of Brua Chapel, I saw an owl entering its tower. There were the usual noises of young owls calling for food. While I was waiting to see the parent bird leave to identify it if possible, the other parent arrived.

"About five minutes later the one parent mounted the sill of the open window at the top of the tower, obviously watching me as I stood under the overhanging branches of a large maple tree. The bird was plainly visible because of its very light breast. We had a stationary good look at each other, with the owl a few times moving position slowly.

"When two passing students came by they joined our party and our mutual curiosity and spying. After a few minutes the watcher in the tower either became alarmed by our attentions, or was called back to family duty in the tower or was holding a consultation with its mate on further forays in the interest of the little owlets. At least it disappeared into the tower."

The Rev. Mr. Waltman suggested that local natural history fans might learn something of interest to themselves and science by studying the habits and activities of the birds in the tower due to the opportunity their location offers to photograph and observe the youngsters and parents in their activities.

MISSING EAGLE IS RETURNED

Gettysburg Camp No. 112, Sons of Union Veterans, Friday evening voted its thanks to the Gettysburg police force and its chief, Robert C. Harpster, for recovering a bronze eagle missing from a marble monument of the 27th Pennsylvania Infantry.

Attorney William L. Meals, secretary of the camp, told of visiting Coster avenue, the tiny portion of the battlefield off Stevens street, and finding that the eagle had been removed. He reported the matter to Chief Harpster who agreed to investigate although he said that the matter was out of his jurisdiction. The chief's investigation disclosed, Attorney Meals said, that the eagle had been gone for a year. A short time after the investigation was started the eagle was returned to its position on the monument.

In two other motions passed at the meeting the post voted to join with the Lincoln Fellowship in the public celebration of the anniversary of the dedication of the Gettysburg National Cemetery on November 19 and voted to dispense with the second meeting each month during July and August.

COUNTY COUPLE WED TODAY IN NEW OXFORD

Miss Theresa Catherine Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, New Oxford, and Gerald Hawn, son of Mrs. Eugene Melhorn, Bonneville, were united in marriage in a nuptial mass performed this morning at 8 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception Catholic church, New Oxford, by the Rev. Robert Hartnett.

The attendants were Mrs. John Wolf, New Oxford, and Joseph Miller, New Oxford, sister and brother of the bride.

Leon Hawn, a student at St. Charles college, Baltimore, and Paul Miller, a student at Overbrook, served the mass.

The bride wore a white satin gown with long train, princess style, long pointed sleeves and a finger-tip veil.

Mrs. Wolf wore a blue satin gown with a matching hat.

Reception Tonight

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Victory lunch room, Hanover, for the immediate families.

A reception will be held this evening in the Bonneville fire company hall after which the couple will leave on a wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bride's parents for the present.

Mr. Hawn, a carpenter, served three years with the 81st Division in the European theatre and received the Silver Star and Purple Heart for a hand wound. He graduated from Delone Catholic high in 1939. The bride, who graduated from Delone in 1944, is employed by the Hanover Shoe company.

Park Travel Is Exceeding 1947 Record

Tourist travel over the Gettysburg battlefield, from October 1 to the end of June, was running over 25,000 ahead of visitations during the same period in 1947, the records of the local national park office disclose.

The "travel year" for the park is from October 1 to September 30.

So far during the current travel year the number of visitors over the field is estimated at 300,480. For the same period a year ago the number was 274,235. Park officials, however, said that the number might decline somewhat during the remainder of the year due to the detour on the Lincoln highway between here and Chambersburg.

That detour together with the rainy weather may account for the fact that June, with 76,101 visitors, fell behind the 81,090 mark set by June, 1947.

During June there were 17,836 cars containing 71,344 people that traveled over the battlefield. In addition 151 buses brought 4,757 tourists here.

BIBLE SESSION OPENS TONIGHT

The Greenwood Hills Bible Conference grounds between Fayetteville and Caledonia Park on the Lincoln highway, will open tonight at 7:30 o'clock, when the first Bible conference of the 16th season will begin and continue to July 18.

The speakers expected are Henry Armerding, Bible teacher, Westfield, N. J.; John W. Bramhall, evangelist and Bible teacher, Charlotte N. C.; William A. Deans, recently returned from mission work in the Belgian Congo, and Alfred P. Gibbs, Chicago, author, song writer and specialist in evangelism among children and young people.

The Sunday sessions will be as follows: 9 o'clock, communion service; 11 o'clock, worship; 5 o'clock, worship; 7 o'clock, gospel service. Week-day sessions will be held at 7:15 a.m., 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Sessions are open to the public. There are facilities on the grounds for those bringing picnic lunches. Rooms and meals may be secured by registering at the Greenwood Hills inn.

Other activities for the summer will include: July 19-29, camp for girls 10 to 18, directed by Miss Ruth Burkle of Jersey City; July 31-Aug. 8, mid-season conference with R. J. Reid of Clifton, N. J., and Tom Westwood of Los Angeles as speakers; August 9-19, boys' camp, directed by William Oglesby, Reading, Pa., and final conference August 21-Sept. 6.

Detours, should they be necessary, will be posted.

COUNCIL MEETS TUESDAY

The regular July meeting of the borough council will be held Tuesday night at the engine house instead of Monday, because of the observance of Independence Day on Monday.

Glorious Fourth Sedate Compared With Noise And Gatherings Of Yesteryear

Does the Fourth of July bring back nostalgic memories of the days when father sported handlebar mustaches, mother wore bustles and the dawn of Independence Day was shattered by the explosion of a giant firecracker?

If it does, then you can lean back and indulge in reminiscence and say: "I remember when—" without fear of contradiction from any of the younger generation—there hasn't been a giant firecracker around these parts in—who remembers when?

Fireworks and "Punk"

Many of the older Gettysburg residents remember when "the boys" used to come to town on the Fourth of July and line up on opposite sides of the street to shoot fireworks at each other.

Dad remembers the drain on the family pocketbook, come a day or two before the Fourth, when he had to visit the fireworks stands in front of the stores, accompanied, of course, by Junior and the other tots of the family, and lay in a supply of firecrackers, skyrocket, pinwheels, Roman candles, red and green fire, caps for canes that you banged on the sidewalk, sparklers—and of course a supply of "punk" to touch off the pyrotechnics.

The bigger the youngster, the bigger the firecracker he wanted, up to the point of the full-grown "youngster" who had to have nothing but the biggest "thunderbolt," and often regretted it.

It was a "Glorious Fourth" in those days. When Dad or Grandad tells about it now, he forgets the burns, the sparks that fell on his best shirt and the skyrocket that fell on the neighbor's roof.

There were injuries, some of them serious, but it was still a "Glorious Fourth," even to the cannon filled with powder which reverberated from Round Top to Reynolds Grove, and sometimes "blew up."

Picnics and Oratory

For the firemen, the Fourth of July could also be a day of excitement. When a fireworks stand in front of a store let go, there was plenty of excitement.

The old "Fourth" was also a day of picnics and long-winded oratory, with the fiery words of the "speaker of the day" echoing like the greater sound of the big firecrackers and the booming cannon.

Times have changed since father was a boy. Gone are all but the sparklers and the little caps that little boys shoot off in small "pistols."

Gone also are the celebrations and the old-fashioned "speaking" and the cheers. The Fourth of July is a quiet and sedate day in Gettysburg, where once, 85 years ago, a victorious Union Army rested, and a beaten Confederate hoard limped southward again, its ambitious invasion of the North frustrated, after one of the greatest pyrotechnic displays of all time—the three-day battle of Gettysburg just preceding The Fourth.

140 WAR DEAD ARE SCHEDULED FOR BURIAL HERE

Mass burials, including six and eight bodies at a time will probably be scheduled for the Gettysburg cemetery during the present month, Superintendent Alvan C. Baker announced today.

With between 120 and 140 bodies of World War II veterans scheduled for re-interment during the coming few weeks, the number of burials per day will probably reach new highs.

The re-burials of men previously interred in cemeteries overseas will begin Thursday, when four are scheduled. Four additional burials are listed for Friday. After that, according to present schedule, interments will be held every day, Monday through Friday, for the remainder of the month.

August Schedule

In August a similar schedule of burials is planned, with more ships to arrive from overseas filled with bodies of World War II dead being returned to the United States. It is possible that all of the 600 scheduled for burial in the cemetery here may be interred before the end of the present year.

So far 267 have been buried. With the additional approximately 140 during this month the number may reach 400 by August 1.

Listed for burial next week are on Thursday at 1:30 p. m., Pfc. William Orban, Cleveland, O., and Pfc. William Burck, Pottsville; at 3 o'clock, Pvt. Adam Litchman, Wilkes-Barre, and Cpl. Joseph Rogel, also of Wilkes-Barre.

On Friday, July 9, Pvt. Harry Heverly, East Palestine, O., and Pvt. William Copeland, Greensburg, will be buried at 1:30 p. m. Pvt. David Leslie, Russell R. 1, and S./Sgt. Joseph Cook, Wilkes-Barre, will be buried at 3 o'clock the same day.

Monday, July 12, the burials will include: 10 a. m. Sgt. Doyle Evans, Franklinville, N. Y., and S./Sgt. Martin Egler, Cleveland, O.; 1:30 p. m. Pvt. Ignatius Shuleski, Wilkes-Barre, and Pvt. Robert Hayes, Philadelphia; 3 p. m. Lt. Bruce Evans, Pottsville, and Lt. Charles Kennedy, Jr., Benton Harbor, Mich.

Other Burials

Tuesday, July 13, the interments will be: 10 a. m. Lt. Clair Truby, Sigel, and Lt. William Pitch, Pittsburgh; 1:30 p. m. Pfc. Thomas Gardner, Weedville, and S./Sgt. Louis Golis, New Castle; 3 p. m. Cpl. Leon Gray, Natona Heights, and T./Sgt. Edward Hamilton, Pittsburgh.

On Wednesday, July 14, the burials will include: 10 a. m. Lt. John Ott, Altoona, and Lt. John Hennessy, West Homestead; 1:30 p. m. T./Sgt. Raymond Williams, Scranton, and T./4 Arthur Hill, Jr., Columbia, S. C.; 3 p. m. Lt. Joseph Hodoek, Byesville, O. R. 1, and Lt. Alex Philippovich, West Aliquippa.

Cyclist Fined On Code Count

Andrew H. Sheffield, Jr., Petersburg, Va., paid a fine of $10 and costs before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore on a charge of failing to have registration plates for his motorcycle. The information was laid by state police.

Paul Sterling Benschoff, Sabillasville, Md., paid a fine of $10 and costs before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. The charge of speeding was placed by state police.

A notice was sent by Justice Snyder to Donald Edward Shultz, Orrtanna R. 1, that Shultz has been charged by state police with failing to halt at a stop sign.

WILLIAM LOTT RENAMED HEAD OF STATE UNIT

William M. Lott, Gardners R. 1, was re-elected president of the Pennsylvania Cherry Growers Friday evening for a second term at a meeting in the Biglerville auditorium.

Also renamed to office for a second year were Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, vice president, and Oliver Heacock, Biglerville R. 1, secretary-treasurer.

The 75 growers present unanimously accepted the report of the nominating committee that the officers be retained. The nominating committee comprised Mr. Criswell, of near Shippenburg; Russell E. Weaver, Aspers R. 1, and Thomas Oyer, Gettysburg R. 3.

Reports by growers and processors showed that while the national cherry crop will be about 15 per cent higher than last year, this year's crop in Pennsylvania will be less than 1947's production.

Reduction in the amount of cherries in the Adams-Franklin area is due to cold, wet, weather during the spring bloom period and the weakened condition of many trees because of leaf spot infestation.

Seek Pickers

While cherries are plentiful and large on many trees, other trees are bearing no cherries at all, thus cutting down the total crop. On trees with fewer cherries than usual, the unusually large size of the fruit on those trees will help to make the crop slightly larger than originally expected. However, the production will be below normal, the growers stated.

Harvesting has started in a number of orchards and the annual cherry picking season should be in full swing by Tuesday, growers reported. Pickers are needed and those who are interested are urged to contact either the growers or the local Pennsylvania State Employment Service.

The growers were agreed that the current crop should be harvested as quickly as possible, and as a result the season will be unusually short, they said.

Gets Contract To Transport Pupils

Floyd C. Baker, Liberty township, was given a three year contract to transport students over a 50 mile route in Liberty township by the Fairfield Joint School system at a meeting in Fairfield Friday night.

Baker, who agreed to operate the bus line for $17.50 per day from the Valley school to Fairfield and to and from the Lower Tract school, said he is purchasing a new 60 passenger bus for the route.

Other bus contracts were placed in the hands of the transportation committee for any changes that might be necessary prior to final action on July 16.

The property and supplies committee was authorized to purchase coal for the various schools in the system and a committee of teachers was decided upon to check textbooks in order to make sure that all will be in readiness when the schools start September 8.

DR. BAUGHMAN IS SS SPEAKER

The church through such teaching agencies as the Sunday School is the only institution that can be definitely depended on to bring youth under positive Christian influence. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, of Gettysburg seminary, told 300 religious teachers and pastors at the convention of the Cumberland County Sunday School association over the week-end at First Evangelical United Brethren church, Carlisle.

Doctor Baughman declared that the greatest potential force for good in any community is its youth. Unfortunately, he added, youth is also the community's greatest potential force for evil. Whether this force turns out good or evil depends on the Christian influence directed upon it, he said.

"The work of the Sunday School, however lightly it may be regarded by an unthinking world, is one of the most vital things today," he said in an appeal to religious workers for more zeal and loyalty.

He called for more adequate program of Christian education by the church and a closer cooperation between the church and the home. He said the home must provide its young with the initial impetus toward the church. Teachers and Sunday School superintendents must emphasize this fact upon the home, he declared.

WESTERN END OF TURNPIKE TO GO NORTH

Harrisburg, July 3 (AP)—A northern route to the Ohio line near Youngstown is a likely choice today for locating the western extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike.

Gov. James H. Duff disclosed the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission will in a few days decide between that route or one to the south terminating at East Liverpool, Ohio.

"I think the northern rather than the southern route will be selected," he told his news conference yesterday.

The governor already has announced new high-speed links will be built to carry the existing $70-100,000 four-lane superhighway clear across the state. The present turnpike runs 160 miles from Irwin to Middlesex.

East of Irwin
The northern course, he explained, would go from Irwin to about 12 miles east of Pittsburgh and veer northward through the vicinity of Butler, New Castle and Sharon before reaching the Ohio line. The distance would be about 45 to 50 miles, he said.

The alternate southern route would roughly parallel the present Penn-Lincoln Highway, cross the Monongahela river south of Pittsburgh and proceed northward to where Route 30 enters Ohio at East Liverpool, Ohio, the governor added.

"The northern route is very much less expensive than the southern. There are less built-up sections, less bridge construction, less tunnels, less valuable property involved," he said.

These factors, the governor explained, may influence the Turnpike Commission to choose the northern line.

Start Work Soon
The northern course, Duff said, would give Pittsburgh a direct connection at Monroeville, Allegheny county. From there, motorists could go to the steel city via the Penn-Lincoln Highway east.

Meanwhile, the governor disclosed actual construction of the turnpike's eastern extension—from Middlesex to King of Prussia, near Philadelphia—is expected to start in September. Bids on that 100-mile link will be asked next month.

He expressed little concern about financing either or both extensions but declined to give any estimate of costs.

Urges U.S. Jews To Have Large Families

Pittsburgh, July 3 (AP)—American Jews must have larger families if they do not wish to commit "race suicide," says Mortimer May of Nashville, Tenn., a member of the World Zionist Action committee.

Speaking at the opening dinner of the 51st annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America last night, May told the 2,000 delegates:

"Our families are very small, averaging 3.6 members. This means we are practicing race suicide on a very large scale. As a result our importance to the American community will decrease markedly in a generation or two."

May criticized inter-marriage of Jews, saying:

"Inter-marriage has been on the increase. This is always a sign of grave internal disorder and weakness."

Push Search For 23-Months Old Boy

Somerset, Pa., July 3 (AP)—Fresh crews of state police and volunteers intensified today a search for Donald Collier, 23 months old, who wandered off from his parents' mountain cottage yesterday afternoon.

Several hundred men, including firemen, police, and residents of this area, have joined in the hunt since the boy was reported missing.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Collier of Rural Ridge, Allegheny county, who are vacationing at the cottage. Mrs. Collier said Donald disappeared while she went into the cottage to get him a glass of milk. She thought the boy was safe with his father, but Donald had gone when she returned.

Two Injured When Car Leaves Highway

Two occupants of an automobile which ran off the highway into a ditch early this morning along the Hanover road two miles east of here were treated at the Warner hospital for minor injuries.

Charles Barnhart, 17, Emmitsburg, R. 2, driver of the car, was treated for lacerations of his tongue and right index finger.

Frederick Roelcke, Jr., 21, Taneytown, R. 2, was treated for lacerations of the forehead, puncture wound of the right temple area and contusions of the right shoulder. Both were discharged after receiving treatment. State police investigated.

Portland, Ore., July 3 (AP)—Forty-five days from its start, the Columbia river flood will end here Monday.

The weather bureau forecast that the river would get back in its banks at the 18-foot level then for the first time since May 22.

That will be the official finale, going into the books as the second longest Pacific Northwest flood. Only the 54-day flood of 1894 exceeds this year's.

Monument Is 100 Years Old

Washington, July 3 (AP)—The capital city went all out today to celebrate the 100th anniversary of its most prominent landmark, the Washington monument.

President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall topped the list of dignitaries on hand to pay their respects to the 555-foot marble column. Mr. Truman was due to speak at 1 p. m. (EST). His talk will be broadcast by the ABC, Mutual and NBC networks.

An hour-long parade was scheduled, led by Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey. In the line of march were hundreds of servicemen, members of historical and veterans' organizations and a wide variety of floats, with music provided by a dozen bands.

Also on hand were 17 carloads of youngsters, some of them newboys, others representing American cities and towns named Washington.

HOSPITAL REPORT
Clarence Nett, Jr., 142 Chambersburg street; Mildred and Mary Lee Haas, college campus; Ronald and Donna Sadler, 534 West Middle street, were operated upon at the Warner hospital this morning for the removal of their tonsils.

Other admissions include Mrs. Bernard Hess, Littlestown, R. 1; Mrs. Richard Cullison, Gardners, R. 1; Mrs. Lloyd Herring, Jr., 323 York street; Mrs. Grace Hamaker, Gettysburg, R. 4; Mrs. Alexander Light, Carlisle street, and Mrs. Robert Thomas, Littlestown. Mrs. Nicholas Gottuso, Aspers, has been discharged.

Joseph E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, South Stratton street graduated from the Bliss Electrical school, Washington, D. C., on Friday. He has accepted a position with the International Business Machine company, Philadelphia, and will assume his duties on July 15.

MARRIAGE LICENSE
A marriage license was issued at the court house today to Francis Laverne Brown, Hanover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Brown, Camden, N. J., and Frances M. Kopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Kopp, Hanover, R. 1.

PUBLIC IS DUE FOR SOME HARD "POLITICKING"

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 3 (AP)—If you think straight, start now.

Pretty soon Democrats and Republicans will be rushing up and down the land, calling names, heaping blame, and making promises.

Some people won't have to worry about listening to all the big talk. They've already decided which side they'll vote for in November.

But it's going to be tough on those who'll wait to listen to both sides before making up their minds.

If you're in that group, you have some job: trying to figure out which side is right.

If you have any doubts about how tough it's going to be, just remember this:

The rise in living costs is sure to be one of the main arguments in the presidential-congressional campaigns coming up.

Living Costs Up
Living costs have gone up 28 per cent since June, 1946. Who's to blame for that: Democrats or Republicans?

Just to show you how tough it will be for you to untangle the living cost mess alone — it's a real mess now — just go back a bit.

Under the law OPA, which had kept prices down pretty well during the war, was to die June 30, 1946, unless Congress passed a law renewing it.

At the last minute Congress did. The Democrats controlled Congress at the time. But President Truman vetoed the bill.

He said it was worse than no bill. He said it would kid the public. He said it would legalize inflation.

Some of Mr. Truman's own Democratic leaders in Congress urged him to sign the bill into law. They said it was the best bill they could get through.

Vetoes Measure
But, still, he vetoed. And he said the three parts of the bill he regarded as most dangerous were sponsored by Republicans: Senators Taft of Ohio and Wherry of Nebraska and Rep. Crawford of Michigan.

That Presidential veto killed OPA, dead, on the spot. With all controls thus gone, prices screamed upward.

Later — in July, 1946 — Congress passed another bill to continue OPA for another year. Mr. Truman signed that one into law, although he said it wasn't much better than the bill he had vetoed.

Nevertheless, it was late to lock the door. Prices had soared. The backbone of price control was broken.

And by November, 1946, with one control after another removed, OPA was all but dead. And prices shot up some more.

Do you blame Mr. Truman? Or do you blame the Republicans he blamed?

London, July 3 (AP) — Yugoslavia has accused Albania of "offensive acts" to destroy Yugoslav prestige and, with a pointed reminder of Albania's economic stake, warned of the consequences should this continue.

She did so in three sharp notes handed the Albanian embassy in Belgrade yesterday. The notes were broadcast by the Belgrade radio last night and picked up here by the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug.

HOME FROM COLLEGE
Miss Lois Miller returned to her home near York Springs for the summer months, after completing four years at Anderson college, Anderson, Ind. She received the degree of bachelor of science, with a major in music.

The Duke of Wellington never met Napoleon, whom he defeated at Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Walter and son, Dan, Biglerville, R. D., are spending the week-end in Pittsburgh as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wagner and son, Rodney, Chicago, Ill., will arrive Monday for a visit with Mr. Wagner's mother, Mrs. George W. Wagner, Biglerville.

Mrs. Wilmer Diehl, Biglerville, underwent a major operation at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, this week. She is reported to be recovering satisfactorily.

Gene Kanagy and Dale Kanagy, Gettysburg, R. 2, are spending a week at Little Eden camp for high school boys and girls, on Lake Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Helsley and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Laid, Biglerville, left today to spend several days at Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Thomas Wertz, formerly of Biglerville, is a patient at Stanford hospital, San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Sarah J. Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, Lafayette, Ind., have concluded visits with Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bream, Biglerville, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Bream, Carlisle road.

Driver Dozes, Hits Truck, And Is Fined

Joseph M. Zagovich, 24, Bloomfield, N. J., was fined $10 and costs for failing to yield half of the highway following an auto-truck accident at 12:05 this morning 6.6 miles east of Gettysburg along the Lincoln highway.

According to a report of the state police, Zagovich presumably dozed while driving his auto west on the highway and crossed into the path of a Super-Service truck operated by Clarence Camahan, 30, Winchester, Va., which was proceeding east. The car ripped off the gas tank on the truck and damaged the left side.

Damage to the car was estimated at $900 and $40 to the truck.

Berlin, July 3 (AP)—The British military governor demanded today that the Russians lift their blockade on the highway to Berlin at once. He suggested an immediate conference with the Soviet commander.

The Briton, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, also demanded in a letter to Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky, the Soviet commander, that the Russians say when rail traffic to the isolated city can be restored.

London, July 3 (AP)—The Belgrade radio said today Albania, breaking trade relations with Yugoslavia, has ordered Yugoslav cultural and trade missions to leave the country within 48 hours.

Lancaster, Pa., July 3 (AP) — A restaurant, auto repair shop and gasoline station were destroyed by a fire of undetermined origin at Gap, Pa. Damage was estimated at $50,000. Eight county fire companies yesterday fought the blaze which also damaged a home and farm. Gap was without electricity as power lines and utility poles were burned.

The Duke of Wellington never met Napoleon, whom he defeated at Waterloo.

State Mines To Be Rigidly Inspected

Washington, July 3 (AP)—The Bureau of Mines says the nation's coal mines will be more rigidly inspected for safety this year than ever before.

The appropriation for coal mine inspection has been upped by Congress from $1,875,000 to $2,451,500. The money is for the year started July 1.

The increase, says Bureau Director James Boyd, will permit the hiring of 50 additional inspectors, increasing the staff to 250. The bureau had asked for an additional 100 men.

Employment of some additional electrical and explosive engineers and teachers of safety regulations is provided in the appropriation.

HAUSER TALKS TO CHM CLUB

The C. H. Musselman club held its regular July meeting in the cafeteria of the Biglerville plant Friday evening, President K. S. Alwine presiding.

John Frederick, program chairman, presented John Hauser, president of Musselman company who talked on the history of food canning. It was brought out that Appert was one of the first canners of food, mainly for Napoleon's army. In 1800 the first sea food was canned in the New England states.

There was rapid expansion in the canning industry from 1940 through 1948. In 1946 there were 843,000,000 cases of canned food produced in the United States. The 1946 census showed that there are 750,000 fruit growers and farmers in the United States, and in 1946, there were 3,800 food canning plants in this country. The canning industry pioneered research in crop growing and protection. From 1940 to 1946 there was an increase of 39 lbs. per capita food consumption in the U.S.

Summing up Mr. Hauser stressed the importance of quality food packing and cited the new equipment installed this year at the Biglerville, Gardners, and Inwood plants. He also talked on the farm development program in Pennsylvania.

Discussions of plant problems followed. These related to marketing, production, and quality control. Fifty-one members present participated in the discussion.

Cherry pie a-la-mode and coffee were served.

SLAYER GIVEN COMMUTATION

Harrisburg, July 3 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff has commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of George Henry Chapman, 37, Potter county's "pretty please" slayer.

Chapman was scheduled to die in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary July 12.

"I have gone over the case with care and in view of the strong dissent of two members of the state Supreme Court plus the unanimous recommendations of the pardons board, I do not feel I can proceed with the death sentence," Duff said yesterday.

He referred to the dissent of Justices Horace Stern and Charles Alvin Jones in the tribunal's refusal to grant Chapman a new trial.

The Potter county man pleaded guilty to slaying his wife, Minnie, 37, in their cabin 16 miles from Coudersport last August 10. He told police he had been drinking and that he fired at his wife after she refused to say "pretty please" when asking him not to shoot.

Abandon Steamship Off Delaware Coast
New York, July 3 (AP)—Flames swept the 5,000 ton Swedish steamship Dagmar Selen today, forcing its crew to abandon the vessel 10 miles off the Delaware coast.

Part of the crew was reported in lifeboats near the burning vessel; others had been taken aboard another ship, the S.S. Perla.

The master of the Perla radioed The Associated Press:

"We have half the crew on board. The captain (of the Dagmar Selen) and the rest of the crew are staying close to the burning ship on two lifeboats."

The Perla captain added that a U. S. Coast Guard cutter had arrived to pick up the rest of the crew. The Coast Guard gave the location of the stricken ship as 30 miles south of Cape May, N. J., and 10 miles east of the Delaware coast.

Want Scouts To Help Collect Seeds

Harrisburg, July 3 (AP)—The state is looking for good forest seed in its drive to step up production at its tree nurseries.

The Forests and Waters department announced it will welcome the help of boy scouts, girl scouts, nature study clubs and others in the collecting of tree seeds in the state's woods.

"Wherever costs justify collection," the department said, "an effort must be made to secure seed on the state forests, and also from private lands after permission has been granted by the landowners."

GIANTS SHOVE DODGERS INTO LOOP CELLAR

By RALPH RODEN
The Associated Press

There's no joy in Flatbush today. The once mighty Bums are in last place in the National league. Manager Lippy Durocher's defending champion Brooklyn Dodgers hit rock bottom last night before 33,104 at Ebbets Field.

The New York Giants applied the coup de grace, scoring three times in the ninth inning to take a 6-4 decision.

Moving past the Dodgers who began the evening in sixth place were the Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds. The Cubs moved from eighth to seventh and the Reds from seventh to sixth place as all major league teams played night games.

Chicago turned back the Pirates, 5-1, at Pittsburgh and the Reds handed the second place St. Louis Cardinals their fourth straight defeat, 7-3, at Cincinnati.

A's Beat Boston
The loss dropped the Cards three and a half games back of the front-running Boston Braves who came from behind and beat the Phillies, 7-3, at Philadelphia.

The Cleveland Indians remained a half game ahead of the Philadelphia Athletics in the tight American league pennant race.

The Indians came from behind and beat the Browns, 8-6 at St. Louis with Joe Gordon's pair of two-run homers accounting for the triumph.

At Boston, the Athletics turned back the Red Sox, 4-2, behind the six hit pitching of rookie Lou Brissie. It was the A's ninth win in their last ten starts.

The third place Yankees were noosed out, 2-1, in 12 innings by the Washington Senators in New York. Carden Gillenwater broke up a pitcher's duel between Matt Masterson and the Yanks' Tommy Byrne by crashing his first home run of the year in the 12th inning. Masterson yielded only three hits.

The victory moved the Senators over the Detroit Tigers into fifth place by a half game. The Tigers dropped a 5-2 decision to the White Sox in Chicago.

Harrison Has Tournney Lead

Detroit, July 3 (AP)—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, drawing "Arkansas Traveler" from Albuquerque, N. M., has been a sick man, but he's doing better today in more ways than one.

The 38-year-old Dutch, just recovering from a siege of virus-x, was all alone at the head of 60 survivors going into the final 36-holes of the $15,000 motor city open golf championship. And the way he's going, the rest of the boys will have to hustle to catch him.

Right smack behind him were four top-ranking threats, Bobby Locke, Jim Turnesa, Chick Harbert and Johnny Palmer—all a single stroke away with 138 for the first 36 holes of the four-day test.

Firmly in the money picture were Elward (Skip) Alevander, husky North Carolinian from Lexington, and airline pilot Elmer Reed of Atlanta, winner of three- under par 139's, amateur pace-setter Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta and the veteran Ky Laffon with 140's and Marty Purgoi, cocky blond from Albuquerque, at 141.

Hogan Provides Thrill
It remained for National Open and PGA champion Ben Hogan the No. 1 pre-tournament favorite, to give the gallery of 4,500 its greatest thrill for the second straight day.

Exactly as in the opening round, Hogan sank a 75-yard pitch shot on the 330-yard 18th hole for an Eagle 2, salvaging a 73 from what threatened to be Ben's worst round this summer. Hogan went six over par on a seven-hole stretch of the back nine but came home three under par for the last two holes to card a 34-39-73 and hold a place six strokes back of the leader at 143.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)
Second place York picked up a full game on pace setting Wilmington in the Interstate league last night (Friday) by whipping cellar dwelling Hagerstown 3 to 1. Wilmington bowed to Lancaster 7 to 6.

Right hander Pat McCullough of York and Lefty Bill Wigle, Hagerstown, hooked up in a pitching duel won by the latter on a Texas league single by Sheehan with the bases loaded in the fourth. McCullough gave up only three hits one of which was George Daddario's home run in the sixth.

Lancaster ran its victory string to four straight—its longest of the season—by edging Wilmington with a seventh inning run on three successive singles.

Bob Zachritz, Allentown right hander, held Trenton to four hits and struck out 10 as the Red Birds trounced the Giants 10 to 1.

Sunbury won a free hitting game from Harrisburg 10 to 8. Harrisburg committed five errors.

The Hagerstown management announced that Pitcher-Infielder Mike Koss had been traded to the Sunbury Reds for outfielder Walter Polinski.

Today's Schedule
Harrisburg at Sunbury.
York at Hagerstown.
Wilmington at Lancaster.
Sunbury at Allentown.

Schoendienst Is Ahead Of Stanky

Chicago, July 3 (AP)—Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals moved ahead of Boston's Eddie Stanky today in the race for second base starting assignment of the National league in the 15th annual all-star game in St. Louis July 13.

The fans voted Schoendienst back on top with 874,118 returns in the nation wide poll. Stanky dropped to second with 862,964 and Bill Rigney of the New York Giants remained in third with 613,477.

The national total vote has reached a record-shattering 3,295,198 and may come close to the four million mark before the poll closes at midnight Monday. Final returns will be announced Wednesday.

Ted Williams continues ahead as the biggest individual vote getter with 1,182,304. Stan Musial is second with 1,174,201.

COTTON TAKES BRITISH OPEN

Muirfield, Scotland, July 3 (AP)—The British open golf championship remained home today, thanks to the solid links mastery of 41-year-old Henry Cotton.

England's most prominent golf professional won his third British open with a brilliant 72-hole score of 284 yesterday, one stroke away from the record first established by Gene Sarazen, the American star, in 1932.

The American contingent didn't even come close this time—a rarity in British golf competition.

Johnny Bulla, Phoenix, Ariz., proclaimed the best showing of the 13 original United States starters. He fired a 291, for a seventh place tie with Flory Van Donck, Belgium; Alf Padgham and Sam King, both of England.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, winner of this year's British amateur crown, shot a 297 to wind up in a four-way deadlock for 23rd place. In 1947, Stranahan was runner-up in the open.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Princeton, N. J., July 3 (AP)—Kentucky's Adolph Rupp, who may be prejudiced in favor of basketball because he coaches the game, feels his judgement has been vindicated by the success of the tune-up games for the Olympic squad. Adolph has been proposing outdoor basketball in summer and has received a lot of "Oh, yeah" answers. But the Olympic squad is playing an outdoor game in Lexington, Ky., with the cheapest seat $2.50, and they'll have to set up extra seats to take care of the crowd. Princeton athletic authorities are planning to dedicate their fancy new swimming pool with a big invitation meet next December bringing back in a minor way the glories of the old Princeton invitation track meets.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
Probably the shortest pro-football career on record belongs to Bud Beauchamp, an end from Escanaba, Mich. Bud, who had no college experience, was signed by the Green Bay Packers after the 1947 season ended and released in June, more than a month before the opening of 1948 practice. . . . The Olympic rowing tryouts here are the biggest on record. Eleven eight-oared crews participated in as many heats this week. In the lesser divisions 36 more heats are scheduled next week.

WEEK-END NOTES
Eleven Drexel Tech girls and two coaches are going to a pre-season field hockey training camp in the Pocono mountains for a week before college opens. So far nobody has raised a moan about violating the sanctity code. Walter Hagen, Jr., who recently won the Hermitage club golf championship will be a member of the tournament committee for the PGA championship at Richmond, Va., next summer. As usual W. Hagen, Sr., will take charge of social activities when he arrives.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
The Williamsport Tigers, who dropped to fifth place last week in the grip of a long batting slump, were in a virtual tie with the Albany Senators today for third spot in the Eastern league.

They stopped the Senators 8-7 last night at Albany in a free-hitting affair that saw six pitchers pounded for a total of 29 hits. The victory left the Bengals eight percentage points behind the Senators.

The Utica Blue Sox, defending champions, retained their one-game hold on first place by defeating the Wilkes-Barre Barons 5-2 while the second-place Scranton Miners were downing Binghamton, 2-1, for their sixth straight win. The Elmira Pioneers bowed to the chiefs, 7-2 at Hartford.

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE FORMED FOR YOUNGSTERS

Gettysburg's Junior Recreation baseball league for boys between 10 and 17 years of age inclusive, will begin its season Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock on the North End (Codori) field.

Contests will continue until August 6 when the regular season will end, after that will come playoff of rained out games followed by a four team round robin to determine the championship of the league. The league will play each Tuesday evening, ordinarily at the high school field, and each Friday evening at North End field. The first game is at North End field due to a conflict at the high school.

Tuesday evening's opening battle will be between the "Cards" and the "A's". Each of the five teams has chosen as its name the name of one of the major league clubs.

The Cardinals are youngsters from the south-west section of town; while the Athletics are from the east end.

Team Rosters
Jack Codori will head the A's as captain and his squad includes Fred Oyler, Ed Althoff, Dave Ridinger, Eugene Bittle, Sonny Sixes, Jack Bartlett, Ronny Williams, Jack Weaver, Ray Goodermuth, Terry Goodermuth, Robert Strausbaugh, Bill Olsen and Ray Cregar.

Included in the ranks of the Cardinals are Edwin Barr, captain; George Penn, Richard Harriar, Robert Sanders, Charles Carter, Earl Sanders, Earl Carter, Thomas Small, Jim Thompson, Jim Coleman and John Coleman.

The remainder of the schedule includes: July 9 (north end field), Dodgers vs. Yanks; July 13 (high school field), A's vs. Dodgers; July 16 (north end field), Phillies vs. Cards; July 20, (high school) Dodgers vs. Phillies; July 23 (north end), Yanks vs. A's; July 27 (high school), Phillies vs. Yanks; July 30 (north end) Cards vs. Dodgers; August 3 (high school), Yanks vs. Cardinals; August 6 (north end), Athletics vs. Phillies.

Other Squads
Rain dates will follow in order: first not played, first played off. Other squads include Phillies (made up of youngsters from the western part of town) Kenny Shindedecker, captain; Bill Sheppard, Francis Robinson, Thomas Gormley, Ronald Gigous, Robert Sanders, Donald Gigous, Leo Staiger, Bob Weikert, Dick Groft and Peter Bachman; Dodgers (from the northern end of town) Dick Trimmer, captain, Bob Dillman, Leon Dillman, Norman Yingling, "Gus" Dehoff, "Buzz" Schmidt, Edward Steinerberger, Thomas Cole, Kenny Cole, "Buzz" Hoffman, George Bender, Bob Kenworthy, Thomas Hemler and Fred Baker; "Yanks" (from the south end of town) Bob Miller, captain; Bob Rohrbaugh, Ron Miller, Bill Decker, Dewey Collins, Bill Knox, "Skip" Fissel, Paul Ketterman, Ronnie Collins, Bob Hixon, Joe Barr and "Buddy" Redding.

California Crew Beafs Washington

Princeton, N. J., July 3 (AP)—If Carroll "Ky" Ebricht can keep his fingers crossed long enough, he may take his third University of California crew to the Olympic games this summer.

Ebricht, coach of the Golden Bears since 1923, tutored the Olympic champion crews of 1928 and 1932. Today he "still couldn't believe it" as he sent out still another boatload to pull against Harvard and Princeton in the final Olympic tryout.

After watching his 1936 crew, a distinct outsider after a so-so season, turn back the favored Washington eight by the margin of a scant yard in yesterday's semi-final, Ebricht confessed:

"We were hopeful, but we didn't really think we'd win. I still can't quite believe we did."

Softball Contests Listed For Week

Games scheduled for next week in the Community Softball league follows:

Tuesday, high school — Grandview vs. Acme, 6 p.m.; Knox's Store vs. Inductiv; college — State Highway vs. Stanton Legion, 6 p.m., and VFW vs. Elks; Wednesday, high school — Stanton Legion vs. Inductiv, 6 p.m., and State Highway vs. Grandview; college — Moose vs. Texas Lunch, 6 p.m., and Lentz Legion vs. Recreation Center; Thursday, high school — Knox's Store vs. Recreation Center, 6 p.m., and Elks vs. Lentz Legion; college — Moose vs. VFW at 6 p.m., and Texas Lunch vs. Acme.

No Baseball Tilt Here On Monday

There will be no Adams County Baseball league game in Gettysburg Monday afternoon as previously reported.

Originally Hanover was scheduled to meet the Legionnaires here but the game has been switched to the Hanover field in order to make up for th change in schedule on May 31 when Hanover played here because of its field being wet.

On Monday morning the locals play at Fairfield.

Small Game Hunting Season Is 27 Days; Four Saturdays

Harrisburg, July 3 (AP)—Three days are clipped from Pennsylvania's 1948 small game hunting season in comparison to last year.

The State Game Commission said the four-week open season for wild turkey, ringneck pheasant, rabbit and squirrel hunting will start Nov. 1 and close Nov. 27, including four Saturdays.

Wild turkey hunting, however, will be restricted to two weeks in 12 counties and banned entirely in 24 others. Last year 11 counties were closed and 10 had short seasons.

The groundhog season which opened July 1 will be reopened Nov. 1 through Nov. 27. The current season ends Sept. 30.

The Game Commission said it found considerable sentiment for an antlerless deer season in some counties but decided "it would be wise to wait until next year before again establishing such a season."

Other seasons set by the commission at its July meeting include: Deer—Nov. 29 through Dec. 11, with fair game limited this year everywhere to antlered bucks.

Bear Season
Bear—Nov. 15 through Nov. 20, with individual sportsmen limited to one bruin, a year or more old, in the season and hunting parties to two.

Grouse—A one week season, Nov. 1 through Nov. 6, with the design of increasing the supply.

Bobwhite quail and Hungarian partridges—Nov. 1 through Nov. 13, a reduction of two weeks to give bobwhites a chance to reestablish themselves.

The commission explained its broader restrictions on wild turkey hunting are designed to give the game in bear territory "a sporting chance."

Counties with the short season will be Cameron, Clearfield, Clinton, Elk, Jefferson, Lycoming, McKean, Potter, Snyder, Sullivan, Tioga and Union. Hunting turkeys is banned entirely in Adams, Bradford, Carbon, Clarion, Columbia, Cumberland, Fayette, Forest, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Monroe, Montour, Northampton, Northumberland, Pike, Schuylkill, Susquehanna, Venango, Warren, Wayne, Westmoreland, Wyoming and York counties and that part of Somerset north of the turnpike.

Braves' Title Dash In 1914 Unparalleled In History

With the Boston Braves in the thick of this year's torrid National league pennant scrap, there is considerable interest regarding the 1914 pennant race. That was the year that the late George Stallings was crowned the "miracle man" by his piloting of a team that fought its way from the cellar into the championship and went on to defeat the Athletics in four straight games in the World Series.

Digging into the records of that 1914 campaign, you are convinced that the achievement of the Braves that year was one of the great epics in baseball history.

The Braves of 1914 started by losing their first three games and by April 25, they were last with no co-partners. They remained tenants of eighth place throughout May and, of their first 18 games, they won only three. They improved a bit, winning ten of their next 16 games, but they had been so far behind that even on June 15th they were still last.

It wasn't until June 25th that they finally moved out of the depths, reaching seventh place as the Dodgers dropped into last place. But, they couldn't stand prosperity and the next day they were back. On July Fourth, the proverbial half-way mark in the race, they were last, 15 games behind the then leading New York Giants. If that wasn't a gloomy enough picture, just consider that Stallings' team also was five games out of seventh place on that same July Fourth.

Time Changes
The Braves' fortunes, however, took a turn right after that. They beat the Dodgers in a doubleheader on July 6 and reeled off four straight. By July 15th, they had cut the margin between last and first place to 11½ games.

Momentous days followed. During the next few days the Braves really started moving up. On July 19, Stallings' team moved out of the cellar and, the next day, they were in sixth place, passing both the Dodgers and Pirates. On July 21, the miracle began to take shape. The Braves jumped into the first division, reaching the fourth slot. It was the first time they had been in the first division. They had won 14 out of 16 on the western trip and, on August 1, they were trailing the Giants by eight games.

With that great pitching triumph of Dick Rudolph, Bill James and George Tyler clicking off sensational victories, the Boston team, winning 9 straight from July 27 through August 10, climbed into second place, 6½ games behind the Giants.

On August 13, all eyes were turned on the Polo Grounds. The Braves came into New York for their big series with the Giants. Rudolph bested Rube Marquard, 5 to 3, to take the first game; James held Jeff Tesreau in the second battle and then Tyler won a thriller in ten innings from the great Christy Mathewson, 2 to 0, to sweep the series and reduce the Giants' lead to 3½ games.

Team Unstoppable
There was no stopping Boston now. By August 22, they had cut the Giants' lead to ½ game. On August 23, the Braves and Giants were tied for first place. The Braves were idle that day while the Giants lost to the Reds.

The Braves suffered a temporary relapse then. On August 24, they lost to the Cubs and dropped into second place. On August 25, they moved again to within a point of the Giants, but on the 25th, the Cardinals, who also were in the thick of this thing, jumped into second place as the Braves skidded to third. On August 29, the Braves joined the Cardinals twice in a doubleheader in St. Louis and, with the Giants dividing a twin bill with the Cubs, the Boston team again was only a half game behind.

September second was a red letter day for Boston fans. The Braves vanquished the Phillies in a doubleheader while big Jeff Pfeffer, of the Dodgers, beat the Giants. This gave Boston undisputed possession of top place and marked the first time in three months that the Giants had no claim on the lead. But the Giants still had fight left. They battled back into the lead the next day, beating the Dodgers twice while the Phillies turned on Boston. On September 5, Boston and New York were tied again as the Giants divided a twin bill with the Dodgers and the Braves romped over the Phillies.

Labor Day, September 7, found the Giants in Boston. The teams split the doubleheader, Boston taking the morning game and the Giants the afternoon affair. On September 8, Boston won an 8 to 3 victory from the Giants and held a one game margin.

Never Lost Lead
From then on the Braves were never out of first place. On September 9, they increased their lead to a game and a half. Brooklyn beat the Giants that day and the Braves, after losing the first game to the Phillies, got an even break when George Davis, who once had belonged to the Giants, hurled a no-hit, no-run game. Five days later, the lead had increased to four and one-half games and a week after that, the Braves were strutting with a seven and one-half game advantage. On September 28, their first place margin grew to eight games. On September 29, the miracle was a fact. The Braves clinched the flag that day. Tom Hughes, bought from Rochester, gained a 3 to 2 victory in his big league debut over Larry Cheney of the Cubs while the Braves lost to the Pirates. This gave the Braves a nine-game lead with only eight games remaining on their schedule. The Giants had nine to go and, even had they won all nine while the Braves lost all eight, Boston was assured of the flag by a half game. The Braves finished the season on October 6 with a 10½ game lead over New York. Quite a

U.S. May Capture Four Tennis Titles

London, July 3 (AP)—The Wimbledon tennis championships close today with three titles certain to wind up in their usual yearly resting place—America. A fourth may join them.

Doris Hart of Miami and Louise Brought of Beverly Hills, Calif., meet in the finals of the women's singles; Gardnar Mulloy of Miami and Tom Brown of San Francisco plays the Australian's John Bromwich and Frank Sedgman in the men's doubles finals, and Margaret Osborne DuPont, Wilmington, Del., and Miss Browne tangle with Doris Hart of Miami and Mrs. Pat Canning Todd of La Jolla, Calif., for the women's doubles.

Bob Falkenberg of Los Angeles won the men's singles title in a thrilling five-set match with Bromwich yesterday. On the brink of defeat, the Californian rallied to beat the Aussie ace, 7-5, 0-6, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5.

The phrase "crossing the Rubicon" means to commit oneself to a dangerous course from which there is no retreat.

finish for a team that had been 15 behind on July Fourth!
And their record! From July 6, when they started to click, until the end of the season, the Braves won 68 games and lost only 19!

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The New Lutheran Church: The Cornerstone of the new Church, being erected by the Evangelical Lutheran congregation of this place, under the pastoral care of Rev. B. Keller, was laid on Wednesday last, in the presence of a large number of spectators. The services on the occasion were conducted in English and German. Rev. Dr. Schmucker, Rev. S. Harkey, Rev. S. S. Sprecher, Rev. Prof. Baugher, Rev. Dr. Krauth, and the Pastor, officiating. At the close of the exercises, a liberal collection was taken up for the benefit of the congregation.—Star.

Married: In this borough, on Tuesday, by the Rev. Dr. Watson, Mr. Edward Yingling, to Miss Sarah Ann Null—both of Carroll county, Md.

Sudden Death: Mr. Jacob Johns, of Hamilton township, whilst engaged in doing some work, on Saturday, fell down and expired instantly. He was aged about 50 years, unmarried, but was the stay and support of his aged parents. His remains were interred Sunday in the burial ground of St. James' church, in this place.

School Meeting: In accordance with the usual notice, the citizens of the Borough assembled in the Court-house on Tuesday evening to determine the amount of Tax to be levied for School purposes the coming year. E. W. Stahl having been called to the chair, and Jacob Aughaigh appointed Secretary. H. G. Schreiner, in behalf of the Board of School Directors, in a synopsis of the financial affairs connected with the schools, reported an approximate deficit of $973 for the next year. It was unanimously

Resolved, That the Board of School Directors be authorized to levy an additional tax of $1,000 over and above that provided by law, for School purposes, during the ensuing year.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
York Sulphur Springs: This well known watering place and summer resort is now open for visitors. It is desirably located in a delightful section of country, and has all the conveniences of a pleasant summer resort. Mr. Abraham Fisher, the proprietor, will spare no efforts to make his guests comfortable.

"The Miracle of Roses": Some months ago the ladies who have undertaken the laudable work of providing a new Gateway for Ever-Green Cemetery, requested Miss Alice K. Baugher to arrange a concert in aid of the enterprise. Miss B has completed her arrangements and the Concert is announced for Monday evening, May 12, in Agricultural Hall. She will be assisted by a number of ladies and gentlemen, embracing the best musical talent of the town, and from what we have learned of the programme, we can assure our citizens that they have a rich treat in store for them. "The Miracle of Roses" is a parlor Opera, based on a French legend.

Married: Gintling-Butt.—On Tuesday, by Rev. J. A. Boll, Mr. Peter Gintling to Miss Sarah Jane Butt, both of Cumberland township.

Palmer-Hagerman.—On the 14th ult., at Bonahugh, by Rev. Father Pope, Mr. Moses Palmer to Miss Kate Hagerman, both of Mount Pleasant township, Adams county.

Smith-Hoke.—On the 19th ult., in this place, by Wm. B. Meals, Esq., Mr. Jacob Smith to Miss Kate Hoke, both of this county.

Tyson-Eckenrode.—On the 29th ult., at Wilkesbarre, Pa., by Rev. Father McManus, Mr. Ignatius Tyson, of Emmitsburg, Md., to Miss Jane Eckenrode, of Wilkesbarre.

The Concert in Agricultural Hall on Thursday night in aid of the Methodist church, was a creditable affair and drew out an unusually large audience. The College Glee Club, Miss Eva Danner, Miss Mary B. Young, Miss A. E. Blanchard, Miss Mary E. Schick and Chaplain McCabe participated. The instrumental music was furnished by

NEWSPAPER EDITORS

I have recently been privileged to attend the annual gathering of Editors from all over America. I am not the Editor of a newspaper, so, of course, am ineligible to join their fine organization, but I am an unordained Editor, and two-thirds of my life has been spent in contacting these excellent and able men who have made American newspapers the envy of the world.

These men, who make possible the excellence of your daily newspaper, are great citizens and human beings. They seek to interpret the temper and thoughts, as well as the ideals, of their readers. They know they are not infallible, but they are sincere, courageous and outspoken. They exert an enormous influence in a community, and more than any other institution guard your freedom and liberty of action.

The American and Canadian press is the freest on earth. Of course, these Editors are human beings, just like their readers, so that they make mistakes and do foolish things at times. But they are inspirers of faith in the territory in which their newspapers circulate, and often far beyond.

The Editor is a secular minister, often with a prophet's voice. He is the pastor to his great flock every day in the year. His fingers touch the pulse of public opinion, not alone when it is in a state of health, but when it gets ill, with trouble brewing. Editors build up or tear down the tone of their town. Every community gets just about the kind of a newspaper it deserves, and the Editor is the go-between—for up or down!

We ought to have more Editors in our legislation halls. I believe that we would have fewer new laws submitted, and more of the laws already on the books either repealed or better enforced. These Editors are extremely realistic. They look upon their jobs as public trusts and take pride in the opportunity for service through the columns of their newspapers.

Senator Vandenberg and Senator Capper were both former Editors, the latter, now the dean of the Senate, a newspaper man and publisher to this day. And Joe Martin, the Speaker, is also an Editor and Publisher of a newspaper. You can't hide an editor.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Pure Pleasure of It."

HEALTH NOTE

(California scientists report that intelligent persons tend to have a hard time recovering from ailments.—News dispatch.)
The word has come from doctors wise.

'Tis in the mind your ailment lies.
The more about yourself you think.

The more you take of pellets pink.

'Tis keeping up with Neighbor Jones
That starts arthritis in your bones.

The more men know, a doctor notes.

The more they're heard to clear their throats,
And others whom some fear assail.

Are apt to bite their finger nails.
Still there are those who suck their thumbs.

Until the final summons comes;
And many wise, but not discreet,
Will drink too much or over-eat.

I'd take it as a general rule,
'Tis better to be born a fool
And never fret about your health
Than strain yourself for fame or wealth.

Though pain by all must be endured,
Who knows the least is soonest cured.

New Borough Ordinances: The Town Council have adopted two new Ordinances. They are both stringent, and all concerned would do well to book themselves up—especially the boys who are in the habit of congregating at the passenger depot, in front of churches, and on the sidewalks. This class of "loafing" is to be broken up. The other ordinance has reference to horses, cows, swine, &c., running at large. By a queer juxtaposition dogs are classed with the other animals whose "running at large" is to be prohibited. Our "town-fathers" are progressing.

The Teachers' Committee on permanent Certificates met on Saturday and approved the applications of Miss Alice L. Warren, Nancy M. White and Emma H. Warren, of Gettysburg; Miss Mattie Lishey, of York Springs; and George L. H. Grammer, of Franklin.

WINDSTORMS HIT 7 STATES; 19 ARE KILLED

(By The Associated Press)

Tornadoes and violent windstorms whipped across seven states over the week-end, killing at least 19 persons and injuring more than 100.

Property damage was estimated in the millions.

West Virginia and Kentucky communities were lashed by tornadoes last night. Twisters hit in Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas Saturday. High winds and heavy rains occurred in Indiana and Illinois.

The death toll by states: West Virginia—six; Kentucky—two; Oklahoma—five; Missouri—three; Kansas—two; Illinois—one.

In West Virginia, tornado winds ripped through six rural communities near Clarksburg in the northern part of the state. State police reported more than 65 persons were injured.

Highways Blocked
West Milford, Lost Creek, Wolf Summit, Mount Claire and Quiet Dell were the communities hardest hit. Highways were blocked and communication lines were down, hampering rescue operations.

In Kentucky a tornado hit Alpha, a town of 140 in Clinton county. The storm wrecked the Davis Chapel church where an estimated 125 were attending services. At least 15 persons were reported injured in the county. Many of the injured were in the church.

Rescue workers sought additional victims in the debris and mud of the tornado-battered West Virginia communities. Wrecked automobiles, trees and debris from nearby strip-mining operations cluttered U. S. Route 19 leading to the damaged town of Hupp Hill, W. Va. The twister hit in West Virginia about 9 p. m. (EST).

Hospitals were jammed. All available doctors and nurses in the stricken areas were called on duty.

Guard To Launch Recruiting Drive

Indiantown Gap, Pa., May 3 (AP)—The 28th Division prepared today for a new recruiting drive aimed at adding nearly 1,700 men and officers to the present strength of the National guard unit.

Maj. Gen. D. I. Strickler, division commander, said the drive will get under way on May 10 and extend until June 20 when it is hoped to have the division at full strength of 10,500 officers and men.

"We might be mobilized at any time," said Strickler in announcing plans for the drive. "We don't know what's going to happen in Europe at the present time."

He added that those authorized to lead the recruiting drive should "get as many men as you can to sign up."

Wallace Party Plans Campaign

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—The progressive party in Pennsylvania aimed today at a state-wide organization that will reach down to the smallest wards and precincts of the Commonwealth.

The organization that is backing the candidacy of Henry A. Wallace for president, met here Saturday and mapped out a program that included formation of youth groups, labor groups, and all other groups interested in Wallace's campaign.

Gerald Schaflander, executive director of the party conducted what he termed "a school for political action" which attracted Wallace supporters from all parts of the state.

"By November we are hoping to have a smooth-working organization in every Pennsylvania county," said Schaflander after the school closed.

BUILDERS' PAY HITS NEW PEAK

Philadelphia, May 3 (AP)—Wages in the building industry reached an all-time high in the Philadelphia area Saturday as a new pay scale went into effect.

The new wage agreement was reached between the Building Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia and vicinity (AFL) and the Home Builders Association of Philadelphia and suburbs.

William E. Johnson, executive vice president of the Builders' Association, said the new contract was signed several hours in advance of the deadline last night after the building trades "flatly" rejected an appeal to forego the boost.

Under the new contract, approximately 35,000 home building workers will receive an average increase of $10 for a 40 hour week.

Bricklayers will receive $110 a week; plumbers, steamfitters, slate roofers, stone masons and plasterers, $100; and tile setters, $96.

Carl Metz, chairman of the association's labor committee, said his group has asked the building trades council for a "two-year freeze on wages to eliminate uncertainties and hesitancy that have plagued the home building industry for the last few years."

The effect of the wage increase is expected to be reflected somewhat in the finished price of new homes although part of the increased cost may be absorbed by contractors and sub-contractors.

HIGHER AUTO INSURANCE ON

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—Revised automobile insurance rates went into effect today in Pennsylvania. James F. Malone, Jr., state insurance commissioner, said the higher rates filed by the National Bureau of Casualty underwriters were approved by his department.

The new rates are effective immediately with respect to all policies written today by companies who are members or subscribers of the bureau, and on all policies written to become effective on or after July 1, regardless of when such policies were written.

Malone said "The average increase in private passenger car rates will be 9.8 per cent for bodily injury and 6.8 per cent for property damage."

He added that "no increase will be made in bodily injury rates for commercial cars, but property damage rates for this type vehicle will average 8.1 per cent higher."

Rates will also be higher for private passenger cars, on non-business use, which are operated by drivers who are under 25 years of age. Malone said the rates for this new classification of drivers under 25 will be eight per cent less than those for cars used for business purposes.

'TOUGH' POLICY FOUND IN FAVOR

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Get tough with Russia, say an overwhelming majority of the voters in Pennsylvania's 33rd (Allegheny county) Congressional district who have answered a poll by Rep. Buchanan.

These same voters, their replies indicate, are whole-heartedly in favor of a peacetime draft and of Universal Military Training.

Buchanan, McKeesport Democrat, asked a reply to this question: Should the United States be tough or conciliatory in dealing with Russia? This question was simplified with this accompanying question: Have events since hostilities ceased three years ago convinced you that we should continue further a policy of appeasement with Russia, or are you unduly alarmed over the expansion of Communism?

Buchanan said that 10,000 replies stacked up this way: get tough, 92.8 per cent.

9 HOMES DAMAGED
Philadelphia, May 3 (AP)—Nine West Philadelphia homes were damaged by a flash fire that spread quickly through the dwellings forcing 50 residents to flee to safety yesterday. The fire began in the rear of one of the homes in the row and quickly leaped across yards and areas as it spread from house to house.

SOYBEANS IN THE GARDEN

As a lowly immigrant from the Far East, the soybean has displayed a versatility under American methods of culture that is little short of amazing. Perhaps in all of man's history of food and feed production, no previous chapter equals this modern saga for spectacular accomplishments. And now this amazing crop adds another and what may become its greatest feat—it has entered the home vegetable garden as a superb new food.

Not only is the edible soybean superior to ordinary field beans in the green state, but the dry beans are richer in both proteins and fat, with the proteins better harmonized with human digestive processes than the proteins of field beans. Too, both green and dry soybeans are nutritionally excellent as a source of calcium, phosphorus and iron.

One of the advantages brought out in garden trials with the several available varieties of edible soybeans over the last two or three years is the variation in time of bearing. For example, by selecting certain differing varieties, the gardener may plant them at the same time and yet they will come into bearing in a prolonged period. Tests made at the Iowa Agricultural Experiment station indicated that the three varieties—Soc, Kanro, and Jogan—planted on May 12 produced green soybeans on August 15 to September 17. There will likely be worked out an adjusted program of soybean varieties and planting schedules to extend this benefit still further.

Garden soybeans may be prepared like ordinary green snap beans. Or they may be harvested a little later and used as shelled green beans—like green Limas. Or, like field beans they may be matured and stored dry after shelling, and cooked in all the ways regular dry beans are. They are, by the way, exceptionally appetizing when baked in this form.

Green soybeans, either as pod or shelled beans, may be canned. The dry beans may be sprouted in winter and the sprouts used in salads, stews and several other dishes. Too, dry soybeans are easily made into soy "milk," a nutritional by-product which can be used in almost all kitchen receipts which call for milk. In fact, there are so many new and temptingly tasty dishes possible from this new garden acquisition that housewives need not hesitate to adopt it as a versatile vegetable.

Planting should be done as soon as the soil is warm. Most named varieties come into bearing as green beans within 90 to 100 days after planting. Gardeners will find improved varieties listed in their regular seed and nursery catalogues.

Every housewife should write her Congressman for a free copy of Leaflet 166—Soybeans For The Table. This publication includes several excellent recipes for soybean dishes, such as soybean milk soup, soybean macaroons, soybean vegetable chowder, soybean flour muffins, soybean nut bread, and soybean pie crust.

Here is a pleasing new vegetable that brings to our dining tables a rich source of vegetable proteins and minerals and vitamins. It rightly merits a place in every garden.

NOTES ON PASTURES FOR HOGS

The practice of dry-lot (usually mud-wallow) feeding of hogs should be abandoned. Farmers in the Corn Belt, where hog raising has reached its most scientific and practical stage, have long ago learned that hogs require clean pastures like other animals. This year, when grain costs are likely to remain excessively high, every hog raiser should utilize the cheaper, safer and more sanitary source of pork production—pasture.

To insure complete freedom from intestinal worms it is wise to pasture hogs where crop rotation has provided at least one cultivated crop since hogs occupied the same ground. In other words, there is little danger from internal parasites except on permanent pasture where hogs have grazed in previous years.

There are several suitable pastures for hogs—rape, soybeans, Sudan grass, alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover, and other legumes. In most cases alfalfa serves more profitable roles as hay and soiling crops, although where acreage is available it can be used exceptionally well by hogs.

Rape has the distinct advantage of being an annual, therefore, it can be planned and brought to grazing status with less pre-determined efforts. Too, rape fits into crop plans without more than temporary interruption or rotation schemes. The Dwarf Essex variety is recommended, sown in late April or early May.

Corn and tankage are usually fed to supplement pasture for hogs. This is particularly sound as a combination with legume pastures, as the latter supply plenty of essential Vitamin A. Sweet clover meets requirements amply in this respect.

"Just enough" is not sufficient when measuring hog pastures. The acreage should always be adequate to permit hogs to be rotated from one plot to another. This means fencing the field into at least three plots. Close grazing not only injures the pasture plants and reduces animal rates of gain, but it soon leads to rooting evils. Rape is almost an exception to this close-grazing rule, as the most appetizing results come from keeping the plants nipped fairly close, although not so close as to injure them. Two plots are sufficient to permit safe rotation of hogs on rape.

Ordinarily one acre of luxuriant pasture will furnish plenty of succulent grazing for 10 hogs weighing around 100 pounds. Of course, in all cases the animals should have continual access to self-feeders containing corn, tankage or fish-meal, charcoal, phosphate rock (ground), ground limestone, and salt.

Hogs on pasture must also have access all the time to clean drinking water. Pouring water into dirty troughs is, like the outmoded mud-wallow, a practice of unsuccessful hog raising. Hogs should not be compelled to drink dirty water no more than cows and horses. The fact that they will drink it is in no manner evidence that they are benefited by it.

Rooting is not a serious problem with hogs on pasture, providing the animals are fed a well-rounded supplement of minerals and animal matter. Usually access to tankage or fish meal will completely solve the rooting problem. Too, lime is necessary in some cases to prevent rooting. In other words, hogs root, not because it is an inherent habit, but solely to obtain an element that is absent from their daily feed ration.

All the merits of pastures for swine may be summed up in the statement that the lowest costing pork, either for market or home consumption, is produced from clean, succulent pasture.

Pine Grove Will Have Guard Unit

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—Pine Grove, Schuylkill county, will have a Pennsylvania National Guard unit again continuing a tradition begun in 1832.

The department of military affairs announced today federal authorities have been received to organize the 121st Transportation Truck Co. in that community. It will succeed the 195th Engineer Dump Truck company which was inactivated Jan. 4, 1946 after service in India and Burma in World War Two.

The 195 originally was Company C, 103rd Quartermaster regiment, of the 28th Division, organized in 1832.

Capt. Joseph A. Schwalm, of Pine Grove, will command the new guard unit. He is a son of Maj. Harry W. Schwalm, one time commander of the Pine Grove National guard unit. The outfit has an authorized top strength of five officers and 105 enlisted men. It needs two officers and 11 men to qualify for federal recognition.

PERENNIALS ANSWERS FOR SHADED AREAS

Cool, shady spots are as important to the home garden as open vistas, not only from an esthetic but from a practical view as well, says Alfred Putz in the New York Herald Tribune. Where is the gardener who does not find delight in relaxing in the shade on a hot summer day?

Whether the shade is cast by tree, shrubs, buildings or fences, the plant material for such locations must be chosen for its tolerance of shade. There are many plants adapted by nature to such conditions, permitting a choice that will satisfy the gardener's taste.

Because few annuals thrive in the shade, the selection primarily concerns perennials. For densely shaded areas, as under trees and among shrubs, there are three which are outstanding: Vinca minor (periwinkle or creeping myrtle), the Japanese spurge (pachysandra terminalis) and, to a lesser degree Ajuga reptans (bugle). To these may be added the hardy Baltic ivy if the position faces mostly north. Fairly dense shade and rather moist soil are a happy combination for several kinds of hardy ferns, especially the royal fern (Osmunda regalis) and the walking fern (Climacopterus rhizophyllus).

Many Native Plants Used

Where deciduous trees and shrubs (the kinds which shed their leaves as winter approaches, are planted, many native plants accustomed to spring sunshine only may be used advantageously. Two ferns, the common polypody (Polypodium vulgare) and ebony spleenwort (Asplenium platyneuron), will thrive there if the soil is rather dry, and so will the wild geranium (G. maculatum).

For soils of average moisture content select bloodroot (Sanguinaria), blueets (Houstonia), cardinal flower (Lobelia cardinalis), sharplobe hepatica (Hepatica acutiloba), vernal iris (I. verna), Jacob's Ladder (Polemonium reptans), squirrelcorn (Dianthus canadensis), various wild violets and wild ginger (Asarum canadense).

Among the cultivated flowers preferring reasonably dry soil and not adverse to moderate shade are hardy asters, astilbe, black-eyed Susan (Rudbeckia), Campanula carpatia and rotundifolia, columbine (Apulegia), cranesbill (Geranium sanguineum), Eupatorium, coralbells (Heuchera), Epimedium, evening primrose (Oenothera missouriensis), goldenrod (Solidago), globeflower (Trollius), Japanese anemone, Lilium philadelphicum and superbum, Hemerocallis, meadow rue (Thalictrum), snakeroot (Cimicifuga), speedwell

The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

President Roosevelt Dedicates

Eternal Light Memorial to Cause of Peace: While the nation listened

Sunday President Roosevelt dedicated on historic Oak Ridge an everlasting memorial to peace in America and then stood by while friendly hands from the North and South brushed aside a barrier to let the rays of the setting sun—falling then on a Gettysburg battlefield vastly different from that of 75 years before—strike the spark that set aglow an eternal flame atop the memorial. . .

Senator John S. Rice presided over the exercises. After opening music by the U. S. Marine band, the invocation was given by J. J. Methvin, chaplain of the United Confederate

Veterans.

Governor Earle made formal presentation of the President, who accepted the memorial grounds "in the spirit of brotherhood and peace," and then delivered the dedicatory address.

Markley Named U. S. Attorney:

Edgar K. Markley, Esq., of Gettysburg, began a four-year term as

United States commissioner for Adams county, according to an announcement from Scranton through the Associated Press.

Dorothy Sterner Weds K. C. Big-

ham: Miss Dorothy R. Sterner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis

Sterner, of Gettysburg, became the bride of Kenneth Bigham, Gettysburg R. D. in a single ring ceremony performed in the Lutheran parsonage at Westminster, Maryland, at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

They were attended by Miss Kathryn Orner and James Bigham.

Elks Commend Rice and Roy:

Gettysburg lodge of Elks, at its meeting Monday evening adopted a resolution by unanimous vote commending two of its members, State

Senator John S. Rice, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Commission, and Paul L. Roy, executive secretary, for their work in promoting the seventy-fifth anniversary celebration of the battle of Gettysburg.

Rev. M. E. Stock Officiates at

Military Mass: The Rev. Father

Mark E. Stock, rector of St. Francis

Xavier Catholic church, was the celebrant for the military mass held at the Gettysburg college stadium

Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock. The

Rev. Father Stanislaus J. Ryzek, of Fort Meade, assisted the Rev.

Father Stock. Music was furnished by the United States Army band.

The Rev. William F. Culhane, of Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, preached the sermon. Joseph Rosensteel and Charles Abel, of Gettysburg, served the mass.

Secretary of War Woodring and

Gov. Earle Welcome Veterans: Formal exercises mark the 75th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg opened Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock

at the Gettysburg college stadium

after a one-hour concert by the United States Army band.

With Senator John S. Rice presiding, national commanders—Dr.

Overton H. Mennett, Los Angeles,

commander in chief of the G. A. R.,

and John M. Claypool, St. Louis,

Missouri, commander in chief of the U. C. V.—shared speaking honors, while Governor George H. Earle and

United States Secretary of War

Harry H. Woodring extended formal welcomes in behalf of the state and federal governments, respectively. . .

Members of the anniversary commission were presented to the audience which included nearly 2,000 old veterans, transported from their camps to the stadium by buses provided by the commission.

Earle Arrives at Office Here:

While official executive offices for Governor Earle have been set up on the main floor of the Women's Division building at Gettysburg college for Governor Earle, Mrs. Earle and two of their sons, Larry, 15, and

Ralph, 9, will reside at the Hotel

THE ANSWERED PRAYER

Every prayer uttered in sincerity and earnestness to the unseen God surely gets its answer. The evidence of God is all about us, so that we cannot question His existence—so to Him we are privileged to render our petitions for mercy, guidance, and forgiveness.

The moment that a prayer is offered it receives its answer in the heart of the one whose silent voice gives it expression. The need for prayer and spiritual nourishment comes about because of our created frailty, our weaknesses, our questionings, and our inward hunger. Every time we pray we eliminate many a cloud in our lives and gain God-guidance.

It is true, as it has been well said, that more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of. Miraculous answers to prayer. Answers that are stored in the heart the moment the plea is made. Or else why is it that the anxiety, the worry, or the burden that seemed all too difficult to bear all melts away in prayer?

There are more people who pray in this world than any of us suspects—not in public places, but in the secret temple of their hearts. And they radiate this fact to the keen observer in their faces and in their daily acts. They are triumphant people. People who have been acquainted with grief, known disaster and defeat, and yet have conquered!

In one of Stevenson's beautiful prayers I come across this line that gave me new courage. He said: "Give us courage and gaiety and the quiet mind." How could anyone utter those words in prayer without gaining new substance in the soul? That is what makes all prayer effective—gaining peace and "the quiet mind."

How deeply God is emphasized in dire emergencies! Then it is that strong men and women offer up their prayer, though they may never have prayed before. Sincere prayer is the act of dismissing one's inefficient self and surrendering all to God for the newness of life that results.

THE RECORDS

Always a little bit higher the leap.
Always a little bit faster the mile.
Never for long are the records we keep.
Someone will better them after a while.Never the ultimate known with today.
Never on youth has the limit been set.
Somebody soon will discover the way
More from the strength of his body to get.Better the methods and better the tools;
Always the struggle new heights to attain,
Better the teachers and better the schools,
And yesterday's record is bettered again.

The ceremony was performed in the garden of the Benson home by the Rev. Frederick B. Crane, assisted by Dr. Joseph Henry Apple.

Mrs. John Kerr Lott served as maid of honor. Charles Wolf, Jr., served as best man for his brother. Mr. Wolf is practicing law in Pittsburgh.

Yingling-Shultz: William Ephraim Yingling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Yingling, Gettysburg, and Bessie May Shultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shultz, Gettysburg, were united in marriage Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Raphael H. Gross in the rectory of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church.

McClellan-Thomas: Miss Hazel Maybelle Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Thomas, Reading township, and John Wilbur McClellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McClellan, Gettysburg, were united in marriage Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the parsonage of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church by the Rev. Howard Schley Fox.

The couple was unattended.

Personal Mention: Miss Janet Miller, of Hartford, Connecticut, is a guest of Miss Jane Rice at the Rice summer home at Caledonia.

Mrs. Charles McConnell and daughter, Florence, of Birmingham, Alabama, are visiting Mrs. Annie Eckenrode, South Washington street. Miss Dorothy Puth, East Lincoln avenue, is visiting in New York city. Charles Ott, Springs avenue, has gone to Orangeburg, South Carolina, where he has accepted a position with the American district telegraph company.

Riding with Russell

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
BY FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S. A. E.

Some motorists are worried about the outcome of their new car, while others are worried about the income to pay for it.

Spice of Motoring

It's fine to own a car and like it, and keep it for years, but this is not the way to know automobiles. Here is where the two-car family has the advantage. Its drivers may be sampling quite diverse engineering simultaneously. I know people who daily switch from manual to automatic gear shifting, from convertibles with automatic window controls to sedans with dual mufflers, from eights to sixes, from yesterday's features to the ultra-modern. Just for variety some families have a small foreign car with its tiny high-speed motor and special gearing. All this makes for a wider acquaintance with current engineering practice and thus for a better understanding of cars. Jumping from one type motor to another with its variations in controls makes for versatility and skill. Driving as many cars as you can is one way of avoiding getting into a rut.

That Acceleration Pump

The need for an acceleration pump on the modern car's engine seems obvious to most motorists, yet few can explain why this gadget is needed. Tipoff to the technical reason for this pump is the fact that when the throttle is opened wide fuel is slow-er than the air being sucked into the cylinders. Thus an engine that is called upon to deliver a lot of power suddenly would draw in a lean mixture were it not for the acceleration pump which mechanically shoots a slug of fuel into the carburetor. Since the season of year plays quite a role in determining what amount of extra fuel is needed during sudden acceleration most pumps have an arm adjustable for two or three length strokes.

Postscript on Pumps

While still on the subject of acceleration pumps I ought to mention some of the little things which, if they go wrong, will cause hesitations, when the engine should really take hold. Topping the list is dirt or foreign matter in the intake or discharge jets of the pump. The piston requires a spring to return it to its original position, and this may be weak. Not quite so common is stickiness of the pump piston in its cylinder. Some of these pumps have a link spring designed to protect the throttle connecting rod from bending as a result of the pump's hydraulic action. The ends of this spring must have a clearance established by the car factory as best for smooth acceleration. Replace the spring if it doesn't measure in accordance with specifications.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Denatured alcohol, or alcohol type anti-freeze, is a good solvent to use in removing varnish deposits on pistons where an engine has developed the habit of not re-starting until it has cooled off. This simple solvent is effective in removing varnish at other points, especially on valve stems below the guides. "Unless such varnish is removed from the valve stems you'll have a tough time getting out the valves without using a first-rate puller. Solvent should do the trick in about 15 minutes if you get a good slug of it right on the affected parts."

Can't Use These

There are some older cars, and some current ones, which do not take the new super tires with grace, so before considering a change be sure you get all the facts. Since these currently popular tires are fatter they naturally take up more space. Thus there may not be sufficient room for tire chains if the fenders come down too close to the wheels. On front wheels it has been found that wider tires may scrape the frame on a sharp cut. Another important factor is the space for the spare. On a lot of cars the present spare just about fits in.

Heat Has A Bearing

Engine temperature always is important when checking into the cause of noises. That annoying rattle with a cold motor may be a loose manifold heat control valve, and that knock may be just a piston slap. Both of these noises will stop when the engine warms up. A knock that continues even when the motor comes up to normal heat may be due to a slightly bent or slightly out-of-line connecting rod.

Heat has quite an effect on tappets and vice versa. When valve stems expand there may not be enough clearance. Tappets then become quiet but the engine skips, loses power. If there is too much clearance expect noise when cold, and lowered efficiency. When valve lifters are hydraulic there may be considerable tapping if engine oil thins out, because of excessive engine heat.

Oddities Explained

When H. N. B.'s car developed the habit of running up to 50, and then suddenly losing interest in further speed increase, they found the carburetor float level too low. Some observers were puzzled at sight of a tire gouged in two spots on opposite sides, but an experienced tire man found this was due to an out-of-round brake drum. Bumping of an otherwise shipshape engine turned out to be due to a leaky carburetor float.

Right To The Point

There'll be less chance of breakage of shock absorber bayonets if you will remember to squirt some rubber lubricant (brake fluid will do) on the anchor ball assemblies to prevent the rubber insulation from becoming vulcanized to the anchor ball.

Oil leakage around the base of the breather pipe may mean that the pipe is loose where it fits the engine. In some cases its cap is positioned so as to scoop too much air and thus blow too much oil vapor out the ventilating system. This would lower oil mileage.

Some recent gear noise was found to be due to a too thick shifter fork in the transmission. It was remedied by cutting down the fork's width.

Right Off The Hood

Good news continues to pour forth from sponsors of new equipment for the car. I have just received details of the new home models of car washing nozzles which fit to the garden hose. You can thus hose clear water or water with detergent for an ideal washing job. At long last there is a roof-mounted spotlight for station wagons. Well-come too is the new fuel pump with a 100,000 mile diaphragm. Service men are now using a cooling system analyzer that will save you time and money by locating internal and external leaks and all the miscellaneous things that go wrong with the cooling system.

It's a Motor Question

Q. Recently I have noticed considerable roughness in the propeller shaft of my car. I thought this indicated worn universal joints, but I can't locate any unusual slack in the drive line. J. L. B.

A. I think you will find that this indicates a dry or sticking clutch release bearing.

Q. Why isn't it a good idea to use a restrictor in the intake just above the carburetor so as to help break up the mixture? This ought to (Please turn to Page 5)

HINT MOVE TO STOP STASSEN COP STAMPEDE

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Some Republicans were reported today to be laying new strategy to block any early Stassen stampede at the Philadelphia nominating convention this summer.

Their idea is to ask delegates from seven key states to keep their 300 votes lined up behind "favorite sons" until the strength of other contenders has been tested.

This move was said to be directed primarily at stalling any switch to Harold E. Stassen at early ballot stages, thus avoiding a repetition of the 1940 convention, where Wendell Willkie swept the nomination from GOP favorites.

Stassen's most ardent admirers say they think he can win the nomination by the sixth ballot if he (1) wins a majority of the 23 delegates he is trying to take away from Senator Robert Taft in Ohio next Tuesday, and (2) beats Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in the May 21 Oregon primary.

"Taking No Chances" While the anti-Stassen people won't admit the former Minnesota governor can turn that trick, they apparently are taking no chances.

There were indications that some members of the Pennsylvania and Illinois delegations have been discussing the Stassen threat. Pennsylvania will cast 73 votes for Senator Edward Martin and Illinois 56 for Gov. Dwight Green on the first Philadelphia ballot.

The stop-Stassen people were said to believe that delegations in five other vote heavy states might be persuaded to follow their strategy—to keep voting for favorite sons until they can evaluate the strength of Dewey, Taft, Senator Vandenberg, House Speaker Martin and others.

These five states include Massachusetts, scheduled to give its 35 first-ballot votes to Senator Leverett Saltonstall; Indiana, 29, possibly for Rep. Charles Halleck; New Jersey, 35 for Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll; California, 53 for Gov. Earl Warren; Connecticut, 19 for Senator Raymond Baldwin.

But Stassen's supporters claim Connecticut and California will not join any stop-Stassen line-up.

Because of its position in the roll call, a California move to any particular candidate might start a landslide his way. But Californians here said they expect the state's 53 votes to go to Warren as long as he has give better mileage and increased power. G. McB. A. Wouldn't the car manufacturers be the first to use this idea if it were a real advance? Remember that any device to increase turbulence may decrease volumetric efficiency. You must not slow down the gas in its approach to the cylinders.

Q. Do radiator pressure caps increase the likelihood of leakage in the cooling system? G. N. S.

A. Yes, they do. There is additional pressure at hose connections and at all water joints, including the head gasket. However, a reasonably tight system should be able to withstand the increased pressure. Advantages of added pressure are less loss of coolant out the overflow and better results from anti-freeze.

Q. What is the purpose of the shroud built around and behind the fan on some truck engines? I once had a passenger car with this feature but note that modern passenger cars in America do not have shrouds. A friend of mine says they are primarily to protect anyone working around a running engine.

Wm. L. L. A. That isn't the main reason for a shroud. Some engineers believe they direct the air flow for more effective cooling of the engine.

6 ways to s-t-r-e-t-c-h gasoline

Six of the many ways by which you can get more miles per gallon of gasoline this summer are illustrated in the sketches above. If you'll give them a fair trial, you'll find that you can stretch the number of miles of driving you get out of a tank full of gasoline.

The best way to stretch your gasoline, according to engineers of Esso Standard Oil Company, is to drive at moderate speeds. If you race along, they have found, you may burn up 30 per cent more fuel than you will if you maintain a moderate even speed. Quick starts in traffic burn up lots of gas needlessly. Smooth, even starts will save you many gallons over a summer. An idling engine in a parked car won't take you anywhere, but it will use up lots of fuel.

Good care of your car also will lengthen your driving range. A car which has soft tires is harder to move than an automobile with properly inflated tires and requires more fuel.

Dirty or worn spark plugs may waste 10 per cent of your gasoline. A partially clogged air filter wastes gasoline by restricting the flow of air, resulting in an over-rich mixture.

Orrtanna — The Women's society of Christian service of the local Methodist church sponsored a dinner recently when husbands, several children and a few friends were entertained at the Battlefield hotel. A roast chicken dinner was served.

Mrs. Wilmer Wetzel spent the week end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker, Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hite, of Fort Meyer, Florida, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Yoder.

Miss Jean Biggs is spending the week with Miss Gertrude Shuler, Liverpool, Pa.

Mrs. Clarence Mickley, who recently held a sale of her home and household goods here, has gone to York to make her home.

Donald M. Shulley, accompanied by Frank Peifer, of Waynesboro, left on Sunday for a two-weeks' automobile trip to the new England states. Shulley and Peifer were among a group granted a three-weeks' vacation from the Landis Tool Co., Waynesboro.

David Wentz, of Hanover, is spending sometime with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Utz.

Mrs. John Hostetter and daughter, of Washington, D. C., visited recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickley.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady Hill and daughter, Peggy, Chambersburg, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pepple.

MAJOR PARTIES WILL ORGANIZE
WITHIN MONTH

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—The Republican and Democratic top commands in Pennsylvania will be re-organized this month for the big election fight of 1948. The Keystone State's 35 electoral votes for president will be the prize.

State Senator M. Harvey Taylor, of Harrisburg, victorious in a grueling primary fight in his home county, was expected to seek another term as state Republican chairman with the backing of Gov. James H. Duff.

On the other hand, the Democratic state committee is on the look-out for a new helmsman to replace J. Warren Mickie, of Bedford, who already has announced he is not a candidate for another term as chairman.

Delegates To Meet

In addition, state committees of both parties will elect national committeemen and women for the next four years with all the present incumbents expected to seek another term.

The Republican state committee meeting will be held in Philadelphia late this month with Taylor expected to fix the exact date sometime this week. Republican delegates to the party's national convention, also elected last week, probably will convene for the first time in conjunction with the state committee meeting.

Governor Duff, a delegate-at-large, is slated to head the Republican delegation. Other top Republican figures in the delegation include U. S. Senator Edward Martin, Pennsylvania's "favorite son" candidate

RECOVER BODY

Philadelphia, May 3 (AP)—The body of a young man recovered from the Delaware river answers the description of a seaman missing from a Canadian ship in port about two weeks ago, police said today. The body was that of a man about 22 years old, police reported, and tallies closely with that of Roderick Fraser, 21, a seaman from West Dublin, Nova Scotia, who disappeared on April 21 when he plunged into the river to rescue three crewmen of the Canadian freighter Narnome.

PROF. KNOUSE IS

James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, read St. Matthew 6:24-33 as the scripture lesson after which the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed, offered the evening prayer.

The recently organized Littlestown Men's chorus under the direction of Robert Snyder and with John C. Byers as organist, made their first public appearance. They sang, "Abide With Me," followed by the negro spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "Send out Thy Light" by Gounod. Prof. Knouse was then introduced by the host pastor, the Rev. John C. Brumbach, and following the address, the offering was received, which went into the treasury of the Third District.

At each Rally, it is customary to award an attendance banner to the school in the district that has had the best average attendance for the past six months and also the largest percentage of attendance at the rally. The banner was awarded to Christ Reformed Sunday school. Mr. Schildt presented the banner to Harry E. Bair, superintendent of Christ Church Sunday school. They will hold it until the fall rally.

Glenn Weaver President

Four officers of the Adams County Council of Christian Education were introduced. They were: R. R. Starner, Bendersville, president, who brought the greeting of the county organization; Miss Alma Miller, Biglerville, county secretary; Harry E. Bair, county superintendent of Christian Education, and Harry Baker, county superintendent of adult work.

C. C. Culp, Gettysburg, a vice president of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, brought the greetings from the state organization, after which he presided for the annual elections. The nominating committee consisting of Harry E. Bair, chairman, the Rev. Kenneth D. James and the Rev. Charles Held through their chairmen presented the following report: President, Glenn Weaver, Gettysburg, R. 1; vice president, Fred W. King, Littlestown, R. 1; secretary, Miss Helen Myers, Littlestown, R. 1, and treasurer, Roscoe W. Rittase, Littlestown (the secretary and treasurer were presented for re-election). Departmental superintendents: children, Mrs. David Markle, Hanover; young people, H. Dean Stover, Littlestown; adult, Edward F. Hawk, Littlestown; school administration, Samuel H. Higinbotham, Littlestown; temperance, the Rev. Grantas E. Hooper, and evangelism and missionary, the Rev. A. W. Garvin, Taneytown. The members of the district accepted the report of the

PUBLIC SALE
TUESDAY, MAY 4, 1 P. M.

The undersigned will offer at Public Sale on the premises of No. 1 farm described. Due to work discontinuation and joining the Navy. Two farms located in Menallen Township, Adams County, Pa., in the well known fruit belt. Farm No. 1, known as the Daniel Peters farm, located in the Borough of Bendersville and 1 1/2 miles north west of Aspers, containing 98 acres more or less.

About 75 acres of apple, seven acres timber, balance of the farm land there are between 1,800 and 1,900 good bearing apple trees about 23 years old. The soil is Poters soil and Ash Gravel, it is very deep. The land has fine elevation, practically every acre is well adapted to fruit or farming. Fine drainage.

The house is a 2 1/2 story Colonial stone home containing nine rooms; a large hall, summer kitchen and large wood house or laundry, two large concrete porches, front and back; cellar under whole house, dry; electric lights, good running water down and upstairs, new roof, nice shade. Hog pen and chicken house, good condition with water.

The house is located within 200 feet of Opossum Creek; 300 ft. from hard road. Fine location for summer home. Three churches within 1 1/2 miles, three canneries within four miles, school buses stop at hard road. Twelve miles to Gettysburg, 17 miles to Carlisle.

Farm No. 2, known as the John Miller farm, 1 mile east of Aspers on state gravel road containing 55 acres and 36 perches, 28 acres of bearing apple trees about 15 acres 16 years old, the balance of trees about 28 years old. About three acres wood land, the balance farm and pasture land. No buildings; electric runs along the state road, running water through center of land. One well and one fine spring. Two stores, one church, a feed mill and railroad within one mile, three canneries within four miles. This farm is well adapted for either fruit or farming. Trees will be sprayed and taken care of till day of sale.

Both farms can be inspected at any time by calling at my residence in Aspers, 12 miles north of Gettysburg on the Gettysburg-Carlisle road.

PILOTS CLAIM CRASH SHIP ON WRONG ROUTE

Ashland, Pa., July 3 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board planned to complete today a hearing of eye witnesses to the June 17 crash of a United Airlines DC-6 near Mt. Carmel, Pa., which killed all 43 persons aboard.

At yesterday's opening session, the board heard of a reported fire aboard the giant airliner just before it crashed. Two UAL pilots told the CAB they would have chosen a route toward more open country had they been piloting the plane under dangerous conditions.

A group of Pennsylvanians from the anthracite area related actions of the plane as it flew low over several mine collieries and plowed into a high voltage power line.

Ship On Fire?
Capt. John M. Roberts and Capt. Earl Bach were the pilots who said they would have headed for more open country. Bach was piloting another UAL flight a few minutes behind the plane which crashed with Capt. George Warner, Jr., at the controls.

CAB examiners have suggested the pilot of the plane may have been asphyxiated before the crash by a chemical used to extinguish fire in aircraft.

Lucian M. Bell, chief of UAL communications, told of a series of messages between the plane and LaGuardia Field indicating there may have been a fire within the plane's forward cargo pit.

Among the Pennsylvanians who testified were Edward Janoka of Marion Heights, William P. Tidmore of Pottsville and nine-year-old Ronnie Snyder of R. D. 1, Wilburton. Both Janoka and Tidmore said they saw a stream of black smoke pouring out of the No. 4 engine shortly before the plane crashed.

East Berlin

East Berlin.—Mrs. Glenn A. Weaver, R. 2, is recovering after treatment for an infected tooth. Becky, the Weavers' 5-year-old daughter, is also improved after a recent illness.

Mrs. Ralph W. Boyer has been spending several days in Atlantic City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney and Miss Bettie M. Tierney have been entertaining as house guests Mrs. Florence Haynes Hempel, New York city, with her sister, Mrs. Lillian Haynes O'Connor, of Hialeah, Fla.

Harold R. Shetter son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter, left this week to spend the summer as athletic director at a camp at Casco Lake, Me. He is a navy veteran and a student at Columbia university, New York city.

Miss Grace Ebersole, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Ebersole, R. 1, is taking a summer course at Penn State college where she has been a regular student for the past three years.

Ralph W. Boyer, local garageman, has recovered from the effects of having been struck by lightning at his garage on Tuesday evening. The stroke stunned and knocked him down.

Roy H. Grove formerly of this area, has purchased the West End delicatessen, West York, and is now operating a business.

Mrs. John S. Kohler spent a day in York during the week with her sister, Mrs. Clair Bower, York Springs.

The Rev. A. A. Kelly, Gettysburg, will serve for the present as supply minister at Trinity Lutheran church, pastor for seven years, having resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. George Oberlander spent a day in York during the past week to attend the funeral of his brother, Michael Lewis Oberlander.

Miss Bettie M. Tierney has recovered from a temporary disfigurement sustained when she accidentally spilled the contents of a can of specially prepared "brick paint" over her hands and one side of her face.

Mrs. George L. Shetter has returned to her home after three days of hospital treatment.

Mrs. Charles Welchert and Miss Amanda Jane Hoover, Conewago park, near town, spent Tuesday in Hanover.

Six civic organizations are conducting the East Berlin Community carnival this week-end at the Farmers' Grove with fireworks display each evening. Music this evening will be furnished by the local high school band.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kothe, R. 2, with Bert W. Stambaugh, spent Saturday near Hagerstown where Mr. Kothe and Mrs. Stambaugh attended to business.

Tax Shortage Probe Recessed To July 26

Philadelphia, July 3 (AP)—The June grand jury probing municipal tax fund shortages was recessed until July 26 after Judge Raymond MacNeille extended its term as an investigating body.

The jury, charged with the duty of investigating speculations in the Department of Supplies and Purchases and the office of the receiver of taxes, reached the end of its term as an indicting body yesterday without returning any additional in-

TWO YOUTHS DROWN

Scranton, Pa., July 3 (AP)—Zane Cruver, 7, and Paul McBride, 9, drowned yesterday in the Susquehanna river near Laceyville, Wyoming County. Coroner Bryce Sheldon dicted.

A special presentation handed up to Judge MacNeille by the jury asked, among other things, that its life be extended.

After setting July 26 for reconvening the panel, Judge MacNeille told the jurors to be prepared for a 24-hour duty notice.

State deputy attorney generals assigned to the case indicated they would continue their search for additional evidence during the jury's recess.

said the bodies of the two cousins were recovered two hours after they were reported missing. He listed the drownings as accidental.

The Klondike is not in Alaska, as most people believe, but in northwestern Canada.

Young Hoodlums Terrorize Camp

Lehighton, Pa., July 3 (AP)—A 21-year-old Florida youth has been charged with burglary and four teen agers, including a 15-year-old girl, sent to detention homes on charges that they terrorized a summer colony at Preachers camp in Carbon county.

State police said the five shot up unoccupied summer cottages and stole jewelry, clothing and food following their arrival in this vicinity Monday in a car stolen at Goshen, N. Y.

Benjamin Osborn of Auburndale, Fla., was captured Tuesday while swimming in a creek near here. He pleaded guilty and was lodged in the Carbon county prison to wait trial on burglary charges.

The others fled into the woods and were captured Wednesday after police used a plane to locate them. The four included the girl's 13-year-old brother, a 14-year-old cousin and another 15-year-old boy.

served at her home at 6 o'clock. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Quincy G. Shoemaker, Mrs. Bert Hoepfner, Washington, Sister Flora Belle Ohler, Baltimore, Miss Anna Gillean and Mrs. John Kump.

Richard Sanders, U. S. Navy returned on Thursday to Pensacola, Fla. after spending a furlough with his father, George H. Sanders.

Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan and son, Joseph, spent Wednesday in Baltimore.

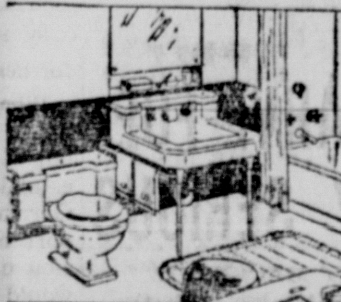

David Kerrigan of the Merchant Marines is on furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gunn and daughter, Elaine, of Riverside, N. J. are spending the week end with Mrs. Gunn's mother, Mrs. Ray Topper.

Sister Flora Belle Ohler of the Lutheran Deaconess Home, Baltimore, is spending sometime with relatives in and around town.

Miss Judy Keilholz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Dale Keilholz, was given a birthday party recently in honor of her fourth birthday.

27,000 Men May Be Idle Through Strike

Pittsburgh, July 3 (AP)—A strike of miners at steel company-owned (captive) pits would idle 27,000 of western Pennsylvania's 56,000 United Mine Workers and close about half the district's mines.

About 130,000 to 140,000 tons of coal would be lost daily.

Steel companies have refused to sign the new contract covering the rest of the nation's 400,000 soft coal diggers. The companies declare the contract's union shop clause violates the Taft-Hartley act. Eighteen steel and coal companies have filed unfair labor practice charges against the UMW and its president, John L. Lewis.

Most of the coal from captive mines goes to feed blast furnaces at the companies' steel mills.

DUFF TO PUSH PENNSYLVANIA GOP PROGRAM

Harrisburg, July 3 (AP)—Anyone who may want to sabotage the commonwealth's clean streams or mental hospital expansion program can expect last-ditch opposition from Gov. James H. Duff.

"There will be no effort to which I will not resort in order to carry out this program which has been promised the people," he said yesterday.

The subject was broached by newsmen who asked if he expected any opposition as a result of his fight in the Republican National convention last week against the Grundy forces.

Duff opposed Thomas E. Dewey until the final nominating ballot. He lost a stiff fight with Pennsylvania's Dewey backers led by U. S. Senator Edward Martin, Joseph R. Grundy and G. Mason Owlett, president of the Manufacturers association.

No Organized Opposition
At his first news conference since the convention, he said:

"In view of the explicit promise of the (Republican) party and the overwhelming support that that program has received from the people of Pennsylvania, I feel that there is no organized group that would seek to sabotage that program."

But should opposition arise, the governor emphasized that he would fight it to the hilt.

The multi-million dollar program to clean up streams and expand the

Not when she writes the President that "every wash day is tear day for me" because she couldn't get the pipe her modest home needed to bring in city water.

So a whole truckload of pipe was due today at the home of Mrs. Paul Ondrey of Hillsboro, Ill., who hit a responsive chord with this plea:

"Dear Mr. President
"I am a mere housewife and realize I am taking your too valuable time but I am frantic.
"Today (June 21) is the longest day of the year and extra long for me. I am trying to do a wash for five of us and we have no water to do it with. Every wash day is tear day for me."

Stork Surprises 'Em
"For one year we've done everything in our power to get two-inch pipe for our water which is 700 feet from us (city water). We are one of four families who need the pipe. We all are building our own homes (ourselves) and have only the basements finished and are living in those until we have money to finish. In desperation we've all dug wells and they have all gone dry at one time or another. We have been promised pipe from several different places but no one has it for us."

"I have a son seven, a daughter three and to really make my (water) problem worse we had a surprise visit from the stork in April. x x x

"A family of four needs a lot of water — and then a new baby! He must be kept clean. x x x

"We surely don't wish it as a gift. We want to pay any one what it is worth."

"Thanking you, Mrs. Paul Ondrey, Kinkead road, Hillsboro, Illinois."

Quick Action

A White House secretary relayed Mrs. Ondrey's letter to the Commerce department, whose office of industry cooperation (OIC) is coping with the problem of overcoming "vital" shortages.

The letter drifted along to the desk of a steel company official on loan to OIC.

It found the right man there, all right. He promptly called a company in St. Louis, and the company sent a man the 70 miles or so to Hillsboro.

The report back to the OIC man here was that Mrs. Ondrey was not exaggerating. With it came assurance that steel for the Ondreys — and their three neighbors too — was being loaded on a truck and was due at her home today.

The name of the steel company official? Please, no, he pleaded. There would be too many more letters.

White Run

White Run — Mr. and Mrs. John Group, of Harrisburg, spent a day recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bucher.

Waldo Bell, of Core, West Virginia, spent some time recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bucher and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reaver.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Whitmyre and daughters, Nancy Jane and Betty Jean, Pittsburgh, are spending some time at the home of Mrs. Whitmyre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Lamont.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bucher and daughters, Mary and Jeanne, spent Sunday in Landisburg at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noy Lightner.

Samuel Lightner, of Reading, spent Tuesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lightner.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Light and daughter, Lois, and son, Bill, of Newport, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Ada Leister.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Garrity, of Baltimore, and son, James Garrity, of Johns Hopkins university, visited several days recently at the home of Mrs. Garrity's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lamont.

From an Orrtanna reader came a request about sowing larkspur seed, which was answered at length by Mr. Van Gorder.

Numerous gardeners are having their troubles with cabbage stems drying out and plants falling over, and with cut worm invasions. The offer of information on bean beetle control also brought many requests.

"Please send me your free leaflet on care of grape vines and raspberries in the home garden," said a letter from a resident near Gettysburg. "I have just one grape vine and last year by the time they were to be ripe they were all dried up. I hope I will be able to save them this year."

Grape spraying instructions were promptly dispatched.

Letter From Philadelphia
From as far away as Philadelphia came another letter, with a different problem.

"As a reader of your paper I write asking some advice as to the purchase of a farm. I want to raise chickens and pigs and berries for a living. Which is best buy, say 19 acres with house and barn and buy my feed, or buy 100 acres, house and barn and raise as much corn as possible and buy what I need to fill out?"

A New Oxford resident was among several who took advantage of the coupon in The Gettysburg Times offering information on "How to Make Durable Whitewash." "Solving the Roach Problem" brought other inquiries.

GARDEN ADVICE ASKED BY MANY TIMES READERS

The value of the service provided by Dan P. Van Gorder, agricultural editor of The Gettysburg Times, to readers of The Times, free of charge, is proving itself this year in the control of numerous garden pests and in otherwise assisting farmers and gardeners.

Recent letters from Times readers to Mr. Van Gorder reveal interest in obtaining information on the control of bean beetles, slugs, snails, ants and cabbage worms. Coupons printed in The Gettysburg Times offered this information. They were sent in by the score. Others wrote letters.

"I am especially interested in the small information, as they are very bad in my garden, especially on my lettuce," wrote one reader.

Another wrote: "Will you please tell us what to use to keep worms off the cabbage, also I would like to know what to use on the rhubarb. It has grown very slowly and has been very spindly."
